An expression of appre

Pacific is well-known for its extensive programs in the academic and extra-curricular fields. The Pacific student has the opportunities to apply himself in either of these levels only because the faculty and administration apply themselves diligently to the enhancement and improvement of the material offered.

For their special dedication to their respective positions, we the students, voice our great appreciation to Mrs. Esther Fuller, English teacher, and Mr. James Fotia, Art Instructor. May they long be a part of Pacific High School.

ciation is extended to these two

Pacific faculty members.

Mrs. Esther Fuller

Mrs. Fuller is known among the students and faculty at Pacific for her advocacy of a strong background of English fundamentals, her pleasantness in the classroom, and her consideration for the students through individual counseling. Students who have graduated from Pacific and are attending colleges and universities testify to her contribution to their success. Mrs. Fuller, a native of Texas, after teaching there for several years, moved to California where she accepted a position on the faculty at San Bernardino High School. When Pacific was built she transferred to this school and is now one of the few faculty members that have taught here since Pacific's origination. She attracts respect for her educational background and for her organization and her directness in her teaching. Not only does one admire her for her academic accomplishments, but also for her dedication. Even though hampered by a physical handicap, she has rarely missed a day of school through her 34 years of teaching.

We would like to salute her as a part of the academic program and as a person in whom we have complete trust and respect.

Mr. James Fotia

One of the most frequent faces seen on campus is that of Mr. James Fotia. By volunteering to participate in many campus activities such as assemblies, PTA meetings, decoration committees, club sponsorships, and class sponsorships, he has become one of the most well-known teachers on the faculty. For his service to the Parent-Teacher's Association he was awarded the honor of a life-membership. He sponsors the Latin American Club and the Junior Class. Mr. Fotia, who received his Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of Minnesota and the University of California at Riverside, has been teaching ten years, seven of which have been at Pacific.

We, as students at Pacific High School, wish to salute him for his efforts and thank him for his joviality and eagerness to support our activities.

Ship Ahoy, shipmates, and particularly the class of '60:

Once again the top annual staff reviews pictorially for us a grand high school year.

What more can we ask — a great student body, an outstanding faculty, a fine school plant, a top annual staff and a superior editor, and the best book yet.

Congratulations, and the best of everything.

Boys' Vice-Principal

I have enjoyed the association with the family. The soldier boy will top! Come out on top! Good luck JLB

I, the Pacific faculty, and the citizens of the community, wish the class of 1960 the kind of success that spells real achievement. The diploma the School Board awards you is not a ticket for the grandstands but rather an eligibility rating for a place on the playing field.

That you play the game of life hard and fair is a sincere prayer of one who was privileged to have been associated with you the past year.

James L. Brickley

Mrs. Gertrude C. Boettcher
Girls' Vice-Principal

As we view the year 1959-1960 in retrospect we realize, perhaps more than ever before, that all the world is a vast stage — a magnificent stage, and each of us has a part — some great, some infinitesimal — to play in life's great drama.

Actors from many lands and creeds have starred in great performances on this stage during this year. In the years ahead many of you will reach similar positions of significance and leadership. All will play a part. Your years of educational training serve to prepare you for this role. Make sure you are ready. Keep an open mind. Nurture faith and understanding of all peoples. Once when a man was asked the key to his success, he replied, "I had a friend who believed in me." We at Pacific are your friends; we too believe in you.

Gertrude C. Boettcher

Mr. George Stancer
Third Vice-Principal

Pacific High School has always had a reputation that it is a student centered school. I think after three years, you departing seniors realize what we are talking about. In addition to giving you what we think is one of the best high school educations possible, we have tried to make these years enjoyable. I think as you go on to greater things, you will look back on the years at Pacific as one of your most pleasant memories.

Good luck to you in your future whatever your plans may be.

Our applied Arts Department at Pacific has the most active organization on campus. During 1960, both the instrumental musicians and choral groups, participated in approximately fifteen festivals, concerts, and parades, some of which were the UCLA band day, Hollywood Santa Claus Lane Parade, National Orange Show bowl game, District Festival, District Music Festival, and SCVA festivals.

The Home Economics program for 1960 included a more concentrated instruction in physical and personal development. The sewing departments increased their instructional equipments with new Singer and Pfaff sewing machines.

The Art Department was divided into two major sections; Fine Arts, including all classes for art development, a study of commercial and industrial design, and Arts and Crafts which were offered in the new crafts room.

All sections of the Applied Arts Department took advantage of vocational and specialized speakers.

This Advanced Art class of Mr. Les Nielsen is diligently working on cubist paintings which are of contemporary French origin.

Business Department

To facilitate a growing interest in Business Education the Business Department increased their teaching staff adding four new teachers and offering two new courses, Merchandizing and Business Law. The department also increased its audio-equipment to include tape recorder instruction for shorthand and typing classes. To develop practical usage of business skills, the classes visited different business establishments, the Courthouse, the telephone companies and the Kaiser Steel Industry. Speakers from various phases of business frequently offered further instruction.

To meet increasing enrollments, new interest in communications courses and a practical application of Language Arts achievements, our Language Arts department enriched their teaching program with certain additions and developments. A foreign language laboratory with listening booths, recorders, and other equipment was established to provide for more efficient and individualized learning of a new tongue. The Developmental Laboratory was expanded to include students from all three classes. Remedial Reading classes divided their time to provide for a more intensive study of reading and communicating skills. Language Arts students visited the Huntington Library, the UCLA campus, many legitimate stage productions and musicals in Los Angeles and made a special excursion to the production of the opera, Aida. A writing clinic, held in the spring helped publish Pacific's two magazines, Pacific Originals and a humor magazine, originated by the Journalism classes. The Language Arts Department is planning to develop an elective English course as a seminar class for students interested in pursuing particular interests under guidance.

The chemistry classes proved to be beneficial for college bound students. The accelerated chemistry course did more experimentation on a college laboratory level. New equipment consisted of a pH meter for measuring acidity, and radioactive equipment including a scaler-active rate meter. The total cost was approximately 1,000 dollars. The funds were supplied by the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington, D.C. where Mr. Macomber, one of our chemistry teachers, studied during the summer of 1959.

Math-Science Department

In keeping with all other departmental additions and improvements, the Math-Science Department supplemented their program with five new teachers and a further advanced study in Science and Math. New equipment was added in all the science areas as well as in mathematics. Some of this equipment was obtained in part from Federal Funds available under the National Defense Act. A new transpaque projector was brought into use in order to help in the development of Math.

The Math-Science Department participated in the Inland Science Fair. Pacific has had sweepstakes winners go on to the National Science Fair for the last three years.

Through the Math Club, the department sponsored the Math Marathon in the spring in which the junior highs of San Bernardino send participants for the field day. They also sponsored the Science and Engineering Club.

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award was presented to the outstanding science student each year at the awards assemblies.

Judy Akam, Dick Pennoni, Howard Killion and Margaret Murad of a regular physics class are shown demonstrating a transmitter.

A few years ago the physics program was completely rearranged and stepped up to qualify for National Defense money. The students enrolled in a physics class have a high aptitude in the field of mathematics. Most students have an IQ of 120 or higher as based on a group test.

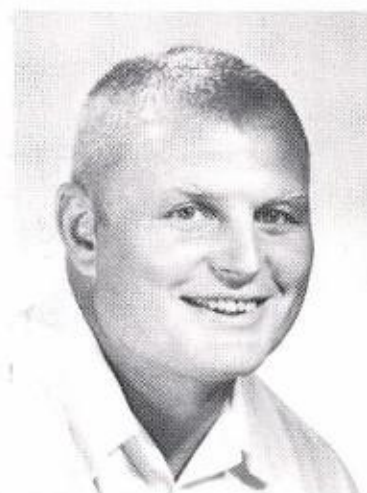

The Physical Education Department at Pacific High School offered a well-rounded program which was geared to the interests of the students. A new course taught this year was sophomore orientation in which the instructors stressed the values of physical, mental, and social health in our community. Aside from regular physical education, the girls' section sponsored the Anchoresses, a drill team, and the leadership group which included the cheerleaders, pompon girls, flag twirlers and baton twirlers. These groups performed at games to instill the pep and enthusiasm that Pacific is noted for. The Girls' Athletic Association is designed especially for the girls who have a keen interest in athletics. These girls aid the physical education instructors in many sports and events. Boys were prepared through this department for various sports that were offered this year. They were football, track, basketball, gymnastics, baseball, and swimming.

Physical Education

Mr. Ewers came to Pacific as a history teacher in 1958 and taught here until his death on February 26, 1960. He was a man for whom life would have just begun, a history teacher who had his heart set on going back to school next year to the University of Colorado, getting his Doctorate Degree, and eventually applying for a professorship in a college, maybe even the one from which he had just received his Master's Degree — the University of Iowa.

He was a man who loved every minute of his work and this feeling penetrated any history room he ever taught in. He often spent his free periods poring over books in the library searching for information that his students would find interesting. In his reserved, gentle way, he conducted classes. He was always concerned about his students. He continually wanted to help them, and by his enthusiasm, students found themselves interested.

He was a strong man. He volunteered to enroll the "tough" kids in his classes that no other teacher wanted. He took them and taught them in his characteristic unforceful, easy-going manner. He believed in fairness with his students, and he was always ready to admit if he was wrong.

Reserved, you found he was a true friend who was interesting to talk to, well read, and someone you liked to be with. He would talk about his trips to Mexico and San Francisco last summer, about the sports he loved, or maybe the handball game he had just played that afternoon.

In the short time he was at Pacific he learned to love the school. And beneath the steady smile that he maintained throughout his illness there was one thing that hurt him the most — the fact that now he couldn't be expected to handle his classes and participate in the school's activities of which he had never failed to be a part.

Some of our faculty had attended
Sorbonne in Paris, Instituto

Personnel wise, the Social Science Department of Pacific was one of the most interesting. Only one new teacher, Mr. Robert Letro, an experienced teacher from New York, was added to the department's faculty. No one was lost that had been in the department in June of 1959. Two of the teaching staff returned after a year in Europe with experiences and first-hand knowledge that cannot be gained from regular college courses. They were Dr. Walter Schuiling, who was a Fullbright Scholar to Denmark, and Mr. Basil Martinez, who traveled throughout Europe on a year's leave from our school system.

A course in Western Civilization was taught this year for the first time at Pacific. An accelerated course in World History was established for the more-capable-learners.

The Democracy Classes visited the Superior Courts and the Sheriff's offices here in San Bernardino. In these Problems in Democracy classes, the social science staff attempted not only to understand the problems of our democratic way of life, but also gave everyone a chance to speak his mind on problems that concern all levels of our society.

The Industrial Arts program is divided into two major areas — an industrial program and a vocational program. These two groups were made up of outstanding junior and senior boys only. These boys spent two years in vocational shop and then went into industrial shop where they specialized in their chosen field to a greater degree than in previous years. Vocational shop consisted of three periods a day, whereas industrial shop was made up of two periods a day.

This training on the high school level gave the students six months towards their four year apprenticeship, where they would begin at two dollars an hour. Select boys were recommended by the instructors here at Pacific to the Joint Apprenticeship Board where they were interviewed and tested.

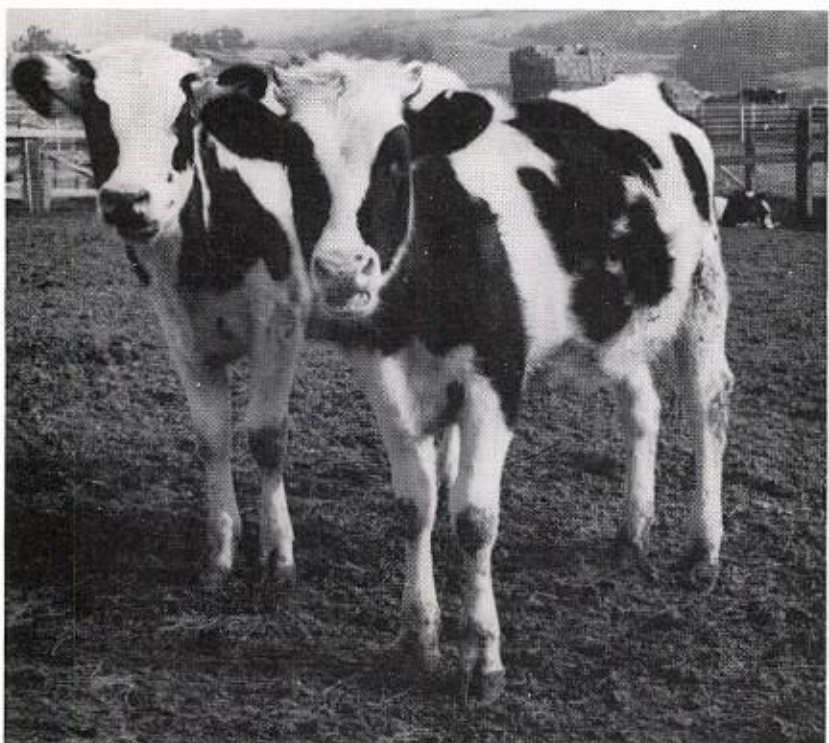

A unique addition to the teaching staff of the Vocational and Industrial Arts Department was Mr. Roger Hall. He was a member of Pacific's first graduating class in 1953. Sharing new teaching duties along with Mr. Hall were Mr. Bill Ferris, Mr. Keith Simpkins and Mr. Howard Clark.

The agricultural branch of this department handled the construction of the new Pacific Bowl. The 4H field judging day was held here where 400 to 450 boys and girls from as far as Victorville and Barstow came for a practice judging contest. They entered into five judging contests including Farm Mechanics, Dairy, Livestock, Poultry, Land, and Insect judging. These contests were climaxed by the State Finals in San Luis Obispo.

The agricultural department raised these turkeys from chicks. Various classes of Pacific were able to purchase them for their Thanksgiving Baskets, adding another means of fund raising to the active department.

PACIFICANA

John Kennedy A. S. B. President

As student body president I would like to congratulate the student body for its enthusiastic participation and support of the activities which have made the 1959-60 school year at Pacific High a highly successful one. I would also like to thank the faculty for their co-operation and support of student activities. In addition, my congratulations and sincere thanks go to a hard working student council which has done a truly fine job.

The Student Council was an effective organization, planning the programs of rallies and several dances, officiating the class and A.S.B. elections, providing enjoyable activities for noon time, planning the half times of the homecoming parade and games, supervising clean campus drives, editing reports on school curricula, and many other campus activities.

James L. Brickley, new to Pacific as Vice-Principal, served as advisory faculty member in the council's organization of campus activity. Mr. Brickley, a former speech and social studies teacher at the local Fremont Junior High School, became Vice-Principal after Mr. Edward Ryan left Pacific to become the Principal at the new Eisenhower High School in Rialto. In his capacity as advisor, Mr. Brickley assisted the council in many of its meetings and supervised the action of the two school service clubs, Rally Committee and the Shipmates.

Pacificana

Being an integral part of this publication, is, I am sure, of high honor to any member of the 1960 Pacificana staff.

I realize that this small message must represent a great number of people who contributed working hours in completing our production schedule. May I give certain thanks to those people outside of annual staff who also contributed: Mrs. Cooper, for solving many of our financial problems; Mr. Painter and his photography crew, for supplying us with much needed photographs of the campus; to Mrs. Miller who assisted us in miscellaneous perplexing circumstances; and Mr. Bernard, whose photographs lend a special touch. However, the one person who rates superior by the encouragement, interest, and help he gave us is Mr. Nielsen, our top-notch advisor.

As a staff we wish you many instances of pleasure when you read the book we have tried to make truly representative of the 1959-60 school year. In this annual lies the support of the Associated Student Body, the special events of Pacific, the ordinary occasions of school life. We hope you will be able to re-enjoy them under the auspices of the 1960 Pacificana.

Pacific High School is reflected in the mirror that is Hi-Tide. To keep the image true has been the task to which the newspaper's editors have dedicated themselves.

As journalists they have reported the news as it happened, campaigned for individual and school improvement, encouraged loyalty, attempted to represent all the students, and remained cognizant of their obligations to their readers and their school.

I have been proud to work with these young people for Pacific.

Glice S. Chous

When I look back at the 276,000 pages of copy printed this year, I see in them elements of leadership essential to an influential newspaper representing a student body of 2800.

I see a newspaper that has been printed "for the students," a publication that they enjoy reading; an appreciation that to a newspaper man, makes all rush deadlines and late nights worthwhile.

Rally Committee

The Rally Committee has played an important part in the functions of the school. Serving as an arm of Student Council, the purpose of Rally Committee is to support the student body and its activities. Decorating for A.S.B. dances, rallies, games, and activities, as well as assisting in assemblies and rallies were only a few of the projects the Committee undertook this year with the help of their sponsor, Mr. Brickley.

Shipmates

The Shipmates Club was formed this year as a service organization under the sponsorship of Mr. Brickley, boys' vice-principal. The members ushered for the Kiwanis Basketball Tournament, took charge of the victory flag, and were responsible for the design and drawing of the sports posters. The main duty of the Shipmates will be to take care of the Graduation Bowl as soon as it is completed.

The drill team, under the capable supervision of Miss Lawrence, added sparkle and precision to the Pirates' football and basketball games.

The Anchorettes have been named one of the ten best drill teams in the Southern California Corona Invitational Band Jamboree.

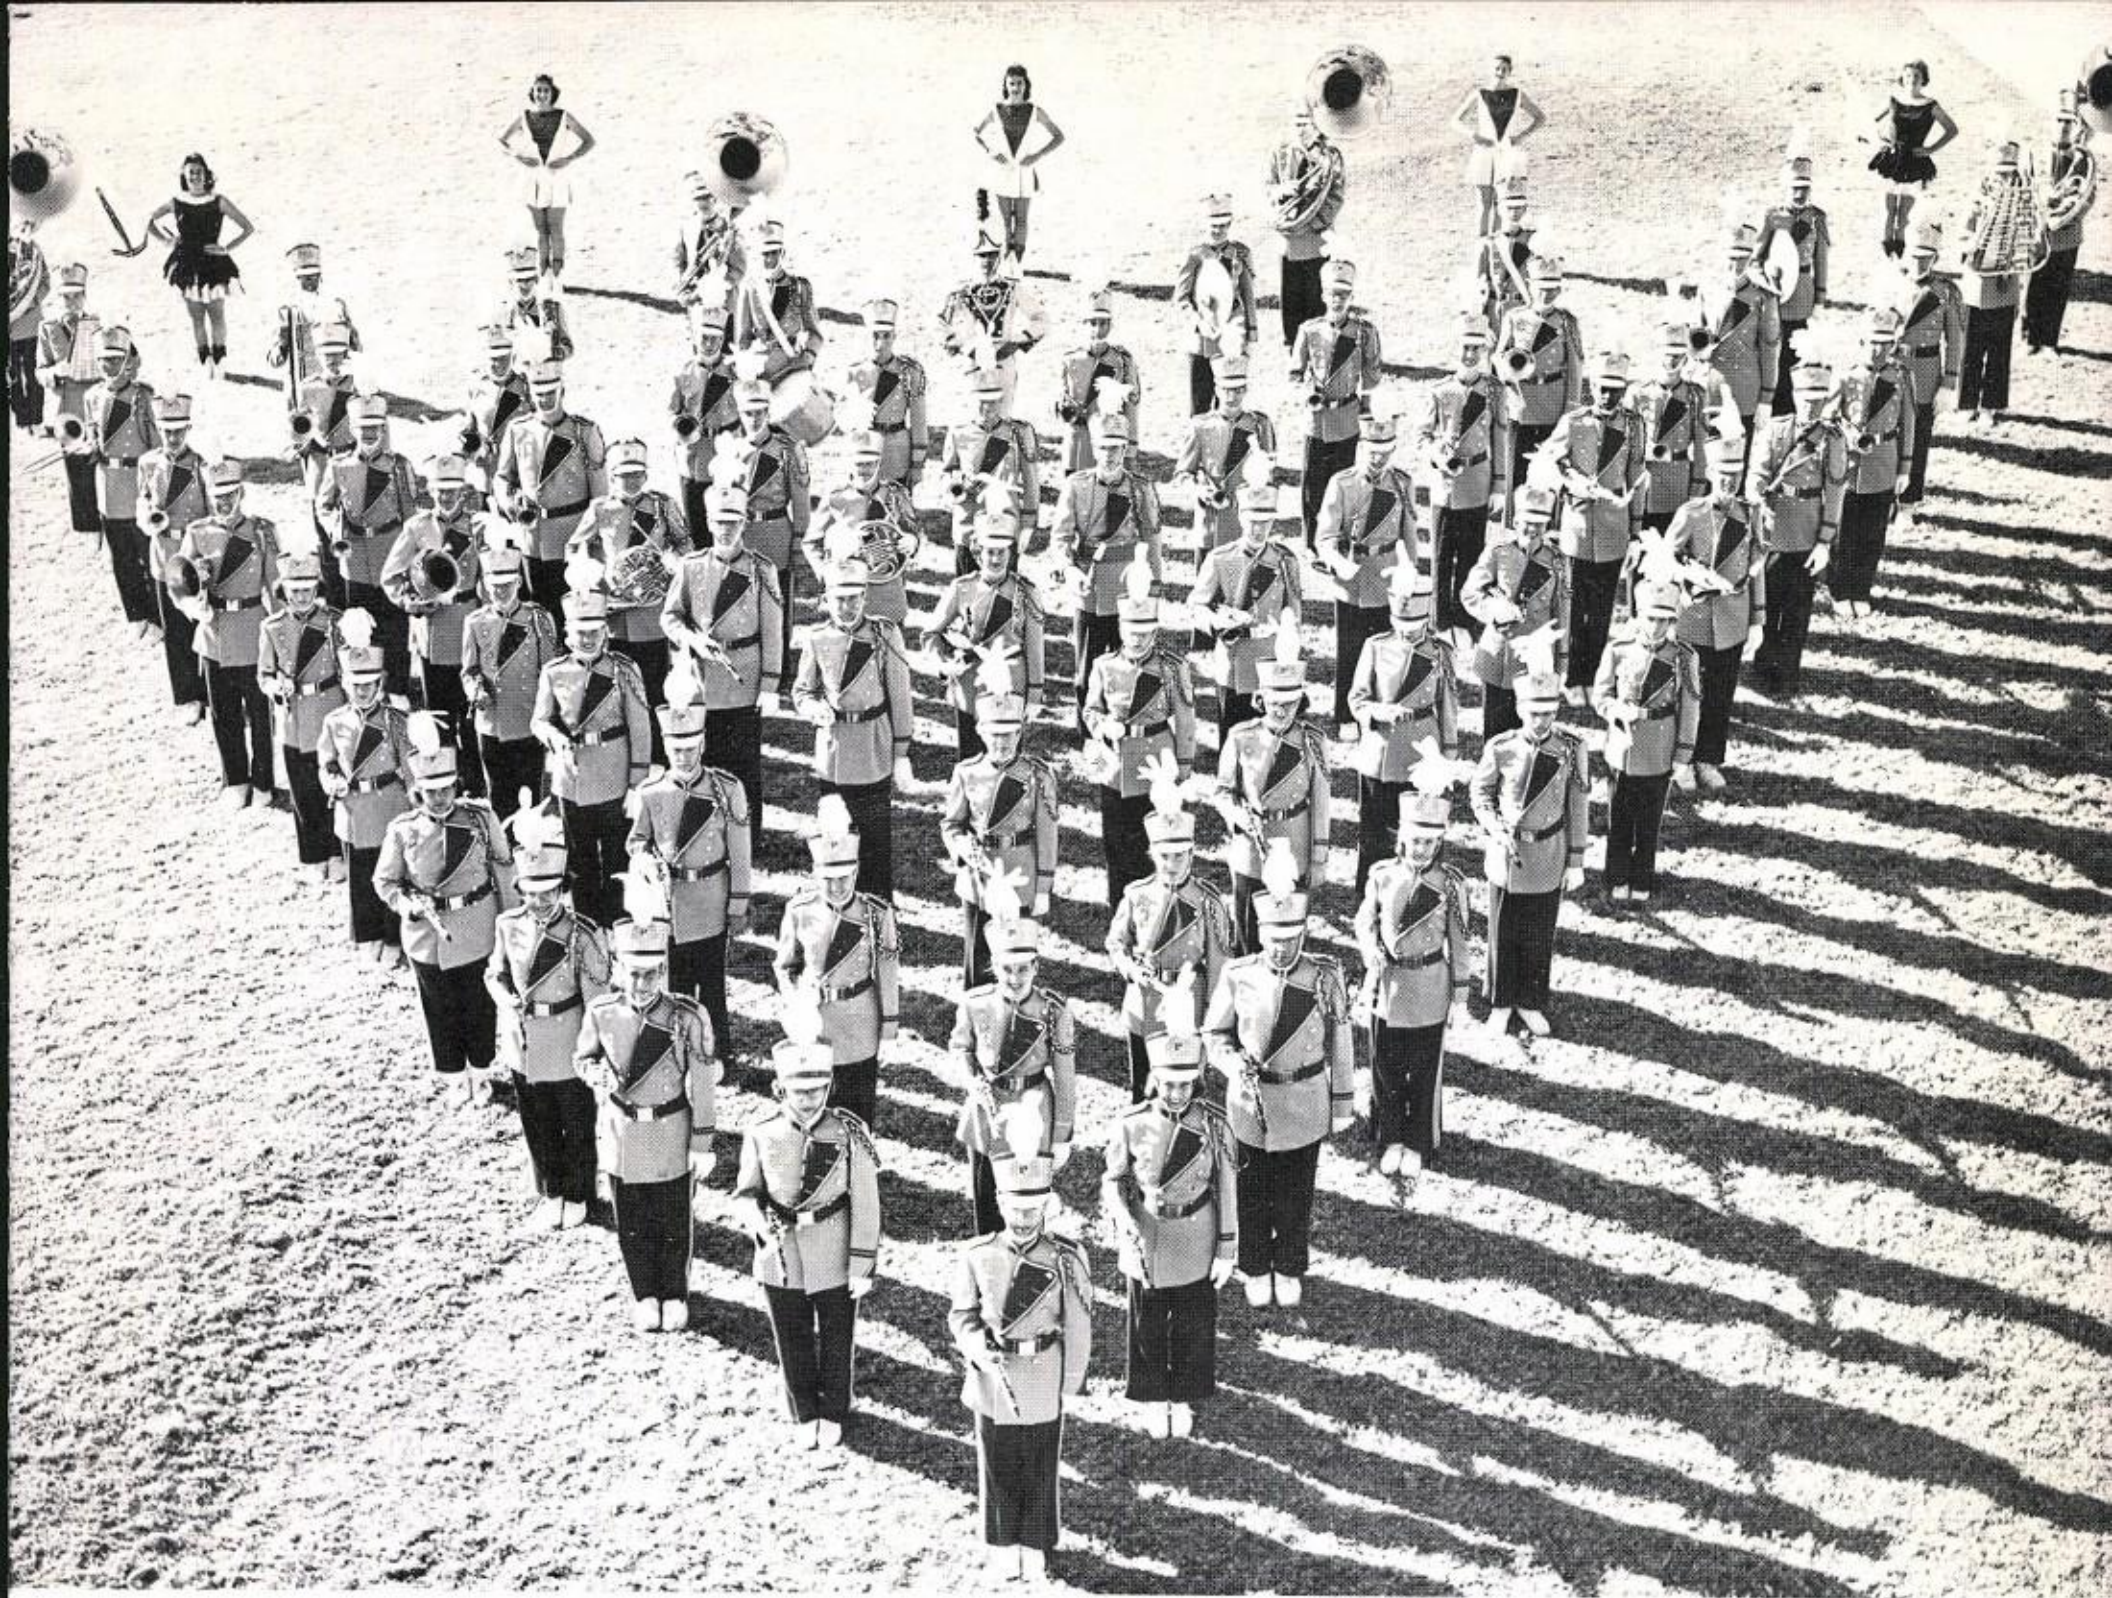

Their trophies included first place awards for the National Orange Show Parade and the Lakewood City Parade. They also received various ribbons and trophies from the National City Maytime Review.

The girls participated in many well-known parades. This was the second year that the outstanding drill team was invited to take part in the Santa Claus Lane Parade in Hollywood.

For the second consecutive year, the group served as the "official" drill team for the Orange Bowl Game.

Marching Band

Richard Martinez
Drum Major

This year the innovation of precision marching was an accomplishment of the Pirate Band under the direction of Mr. Harbaugh. This new type of marching, in which there is constant movement, brought our band the honor of being the "Official Band of the National Orange Show Bowl" and an invitation to participate in the Corona Band Jam-boree. This invitation signified ours as being one of the top ten bands in Southern California.

Of the tunes our band played at football half-times, "Conquest" was the thriller.

At the end of the football season the marching band then became the Concert Band. Music was performed by this excellent organization in concerts, music festivals and for graduation.

Assemblies And Pep Rallies

Extravagant, hilarious pep rallies and assemblies were a characteristic of this year that every student enjoyed. Special instances that were favorites of this annual staff are pictured on this page.

Dance Band

The "Men of Note," Pacific's Dance Band, proved that jazz has a place in a busy school day. They added their "cool" touch to exchange assemblies, school dances and style shows.

The aim of the Varsity Band was to improve individual performance ability. As a participative musical unit, they contributed to the enthusiasm during the basketball games and performed with the Marching Band in some of the assemblies.

*To Leroy
Harry Harbaugh*

Under the superb direction of Mr. Harbaugh, the Orchestra this year, as in past years, gave outstanding performances in their many activities on campus and for the community. They participated in various assemblies, in the Christmas program, and in the Spring Concert. They performed at several Pacific Forums and attended the annual District Music Festival at which Pacific's Orchestra had received four superior ratings in previous competition. They met daily during third period in room M-1 to practice for their numerous performances. Some of the new pieces played this year were Beethoven's 1st and 2nd Symphonies, "The Ballet Egyptian," "Merry Wives of Windsor," and "Der Meistersingers."

Most of the instruments which are used in Pacific's Orchestra, Dance Band, and Varsity Band were originated in Italy, Germany, the Middle East, and the Orient.

The Girls' Chorus is a group of girls who know how to sing especially well, as they proved this year in their many performances including those at the Father-Daughter Banquet, the Christmas Program, and Baccalaureate.

The octet is a carefully screened group of top singers. This year they were called upon to perform for various civic and service clubs, P.T.A.'s, and women's clubs. The members bought their own uniforms and provided their own transportation to and from engagements. They rehearsed before and after school in their efforts to perform their best for the public.

Acting, dancing, singing, and playing instruments are the many talents of the 32 members of the Music Production class. Performing in exchange assemblies and for various service clubs provided good experience for these would-be professionals.

Democratic Chorus

Competitive singing, which began at the ancient Olympic Games in Greece, contributed much to the progress of group singing, which is an important activity on the Pacific campus.

Enthusiastic sophomores compiled the majority of this second period group of novices. From these 73 girls will come skilled singers who will join the various singing groups on the campus. They gained experience by performing at Back-to-School Night and in the Christmas Program.

To promote good music is the prime object of the Mixed Choir. Their superior singing this year reflected the diligence at rehearsals and the outstanding direction of Mr. McCullough.

"The Thread That Runs So True"

The first play of the school year was Jesse Stuart's "The Thread That Runs So True." This is a colorful and true story about the author's life as a mountain schoolteacher in the back hills of Kentucky. The most unique feature of the production was that the audience sat in the natural setting of a forest area immediately next to the school house. The cafeteria floor, walls, stage and folding chairs were specially covered to achieve as natural a setting as possible.

The stage crew of "Our Town" had a chance to display their artistic ability when they painted the wall-paper for the sets.

In a scene from "Our Town" the Webb family ate breakfast in their kitchen while Mrs. Gibbs prepared hers in her own kitchen next door.

"Our Town"

For the second performance of the year, Thespians, under the direction of Mr. William Miller, presented Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winning play, "Our Town," a story about life in the small town of Grover's Corners. The moral reflected in this play is that the past cannot be relived. People, occupied with their petty occupations and small thoughts, know little of true joy or happiness; truth is to be found only in the future.

The production had a cabaret setting; the audience was seated at tables, and refreshments were served before, during, and after the play.

Junior-Senior Prom

Southern Serenade

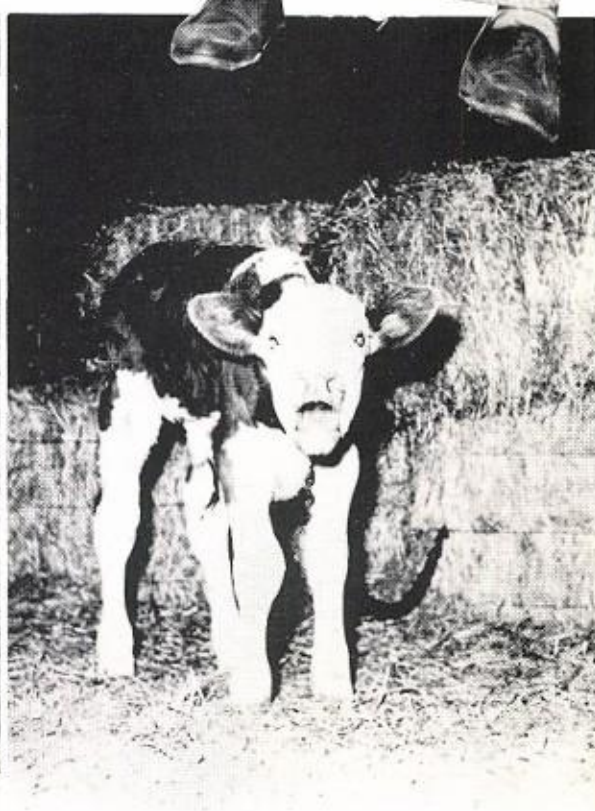

Roger Trapp and Luan Knotts were among the 1200 people who attended the annual Junior-Senior Prom held this year on May 14, 1960. All the decorations were in accord with the theme, "Southern Serenade." The gym was transformed into a southern mansion. The main floor became a ballroom and the two side floors became romantic verandas. Pink and white were the colors which were used to carry out the theme. Magnolia and weeping willow trees enhanced the scene as did pillars made of white satin.

1960 Country Fair

7th Annual Presentation

Bob Ryan and Kathy Hoefling were right in style for the Country Fair which was held on Friday, April 22. The day began with a breakfast and the crowning of the queen. Pacificans, dressed in appropriate country-style costumes, were dismissed from school early Friday morning to attend the fair. They bought food and drinks and patronized the various booths sponsored by clubs and other organizations. Adding to the excitement of the day were inter-club relays and inter-class competition. A dance was sponsored by KFXM and Hi Tide on the night of the fair. It was the finale of a wonderful day.

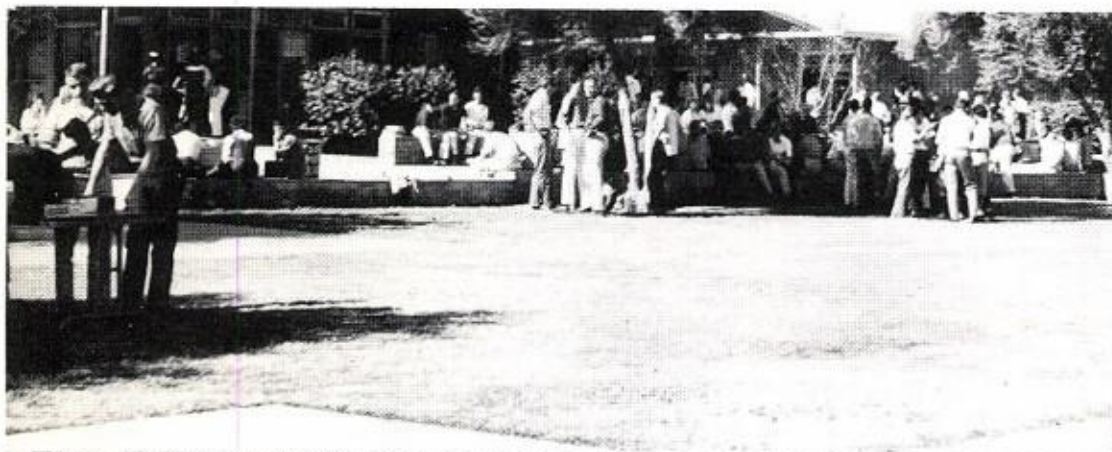

One of the traditional sights at a rally was the cheerleaders lined up on the stage during the singing of our alma mater.

An impressive activity of Rally Committees was the card section, initiated for the first time during the 1959 football season.

Around Campus

Although rallies were mainly held in the gymnasium where the echos of "V-V-for Varsity" seemed to rock the building, some rallies were staged in the Quad with contests between the classes in yelling.

Tot-a-book Day, a Girls' League activity, caused loads of loud wails from Kathy Hoefling who complained that the huge books that Bob Behrens made her carry were "entirely too, too, too heavy."

Phyllis Smith, Marsha Chudacoff and Jane McBride tried many times to choke out the dime they lost during the first of the year while trying to get an apple from the convenient apple machines on campus.

Our mascot, Commodore, made his home in a quite comfortable cage in the Administration Office where the Condors cared for him.

Singing the alma mater, football games,
the apple machine, Commodore's squawks,
Tote-a-book Day, the Quad at lunch...

Pirates enjoyed many picturesque areas on campus, congregating there for lunch, meetings and social periods. Numerous trees and plants enhance the beauty of the walk-ways between the buildings, in the Quad, and the special Senior areas.

1959 Football Homecoming Queen

The 1960 Football Homecoming ceremony, "Pacific Paradise," was held during half-time at our victorious Ramona-Pacific football game. The princesses were first announced: First Princess, Judy Price; Second Princess, Sue Albretsen; Third Princess, Pam Cooper; Fourth Princess, Diane Urkov. Art Bertolina, 1958-59 football captain then crowned Karen Dyal, Homecoming Queen for the year 1959-60.

1960 Basketball Homecoming Queen

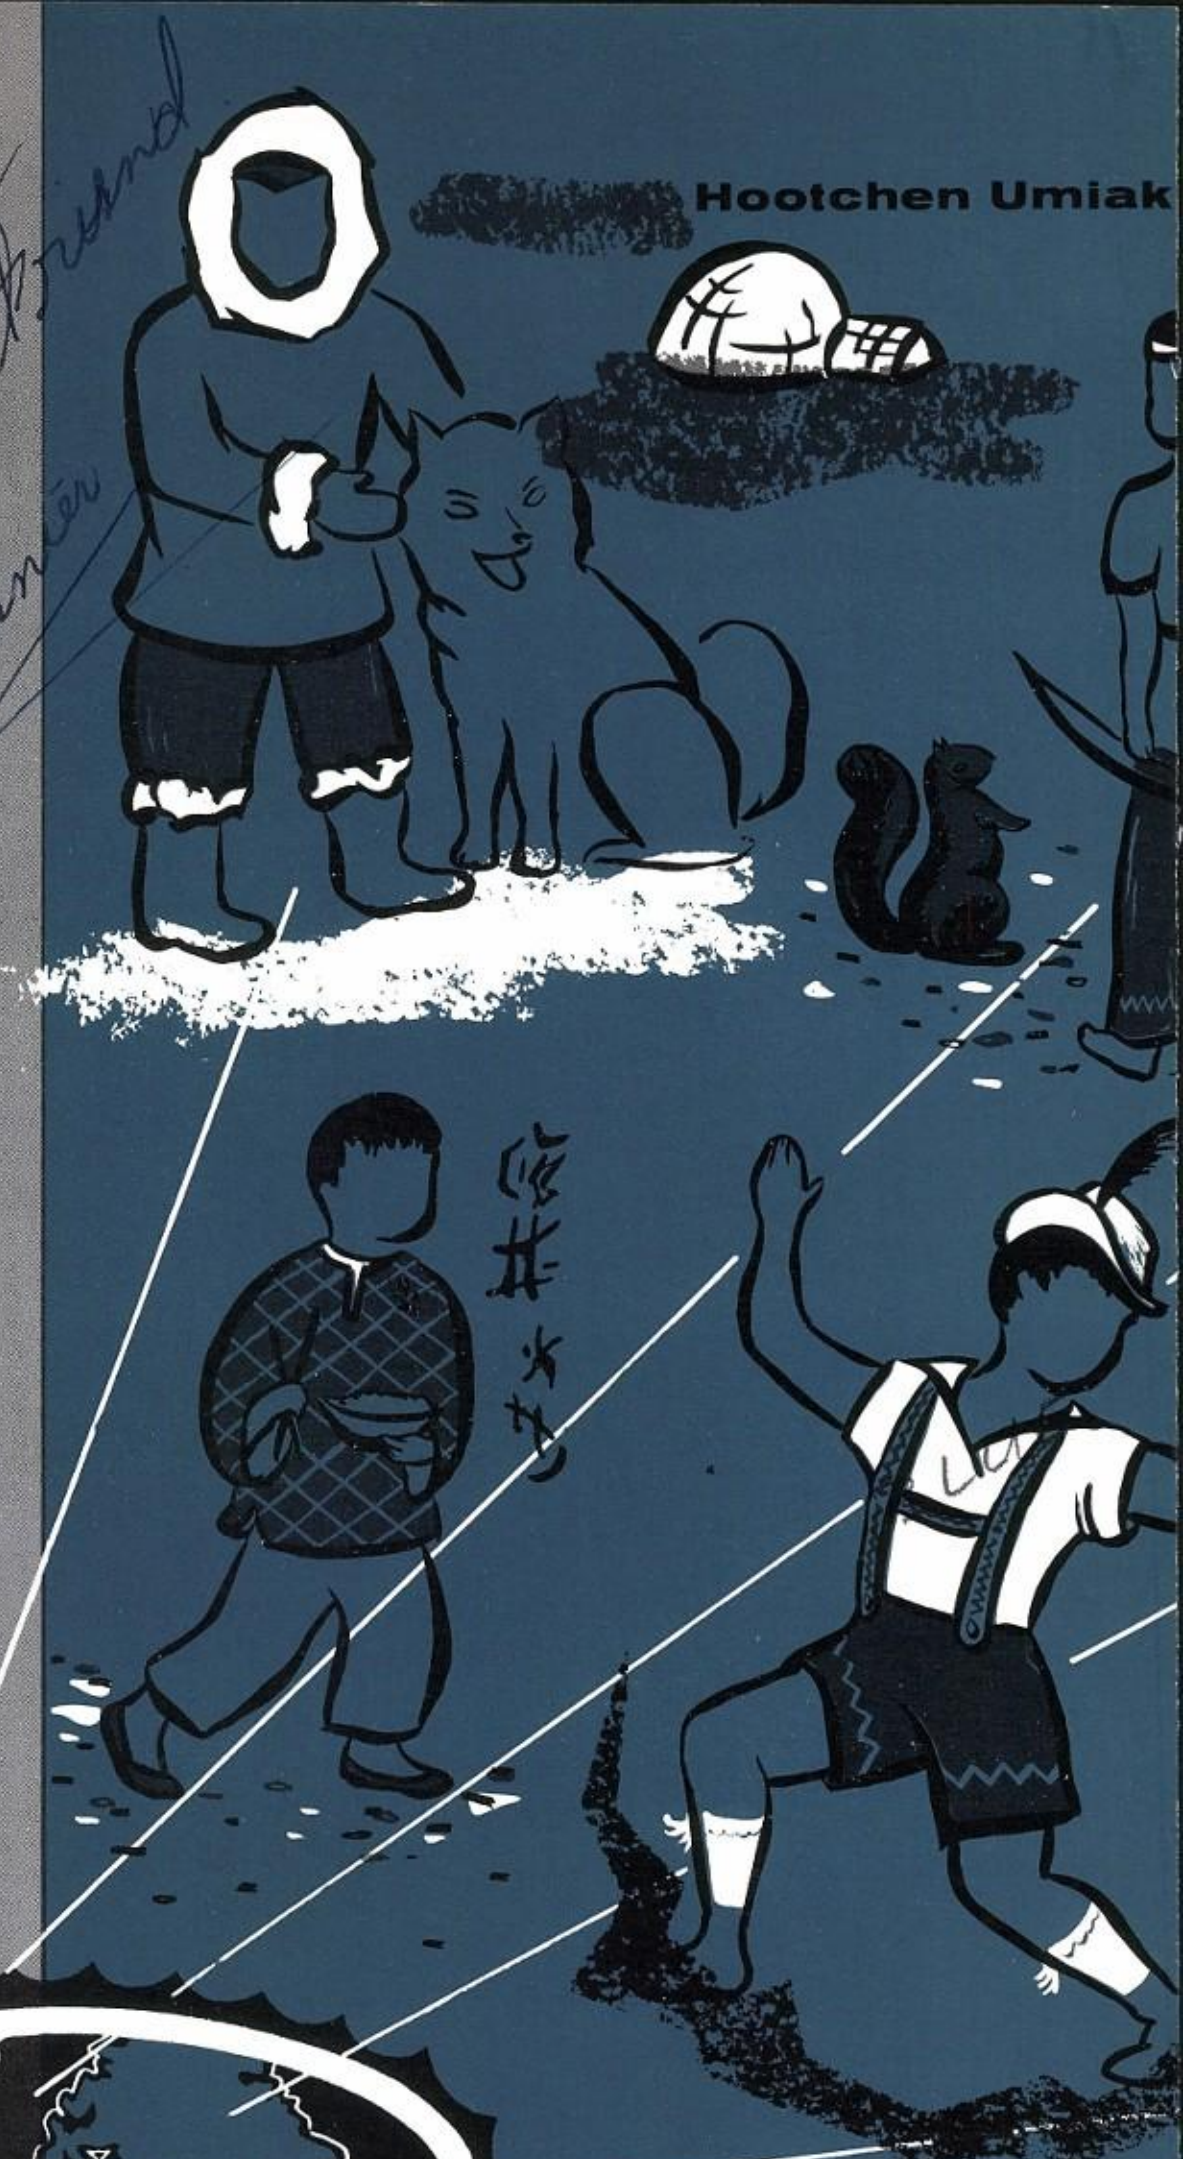

At our victorious Colton-Pacific game, the Basketball Homecoming ceremony was staged at half-time. The Sophomore Princess, Karen Jacobsen, and the Junior Princess, Judy Walker were first introduced. The Senior Princesses, Becki Barbour, Luan Knotts, and Linda Spencer were then escorted to the platform erected in the middle of the court where Joe Momyer, Senior Class President, crowned Becki Barbour as Homecoming Queen for 1959-60.

The contemporary system of education reflects influences from scores of fellow civilizations and other peoples. In our American secondary system, the Sophomore year marks a beginning of a new school life. Specialized study and opportunity for self-reliance are the situations encountered by tenth graders when they first meet Pacific High.

CLASS OF 1962

Class of 1962

"Let's Get Acquainted" was the theme of the Sophomore Campout, the first function held by the Class of '62. The seven officers and committee members planned the joint dance which S.B.H.S. held for the purpose of promoting good relations between the two schools. The Sophomores took an active part in the A.U.F. Drive and the Thanksgiving Basket Drive for the P.T.A. Keeping Pacific's campus clean was another project that kept the Sophs busy during the year. Class unity was promoted with the innovation of the Sophomore Advisory Council which consisted of one representative from each English class. Rounding out the Sophomore class activities were an ice cream sale and a victory dance after one of the exciting basketball games.

Mr. Hoel, Chairman, Mrs. Chous, Mrs. Rush, and Mr. Herbert, as Sophomore sponsors, were very helpful in having a smooth year for the Sophomore Class. When plans came to a standstill, the sponsors always came through with help and encouragement, no matter how busy they were with their own classes. Under the guidance and patience of these teachers the Class of '62 has become prominent in the life of Pacific High.

As part of the Sophomore Orientation, about three hundred Baby Pirates traveled to Round Meadows for the week-end. A watermelon feed after an afternoon hike, a bonfire and a dance were enjoyed by the Sophomores, Student Body officers, and members of the faculty. They also had a chance for swimming, tennis and all-around fun. According to Diane Urkov, Governor of Activities, the week-end proved to be a great success.

After the Sophomore dance has lifted, the Junior suddenly finds available many academic and social opportunities that enhance the pattern of culture at Pacific.

As an example of their industry, the Class of 1961 proved to be the most financially successful class in all of Pacific's seven year history.

The active interest shown by them encouraged the participation of the junior class.

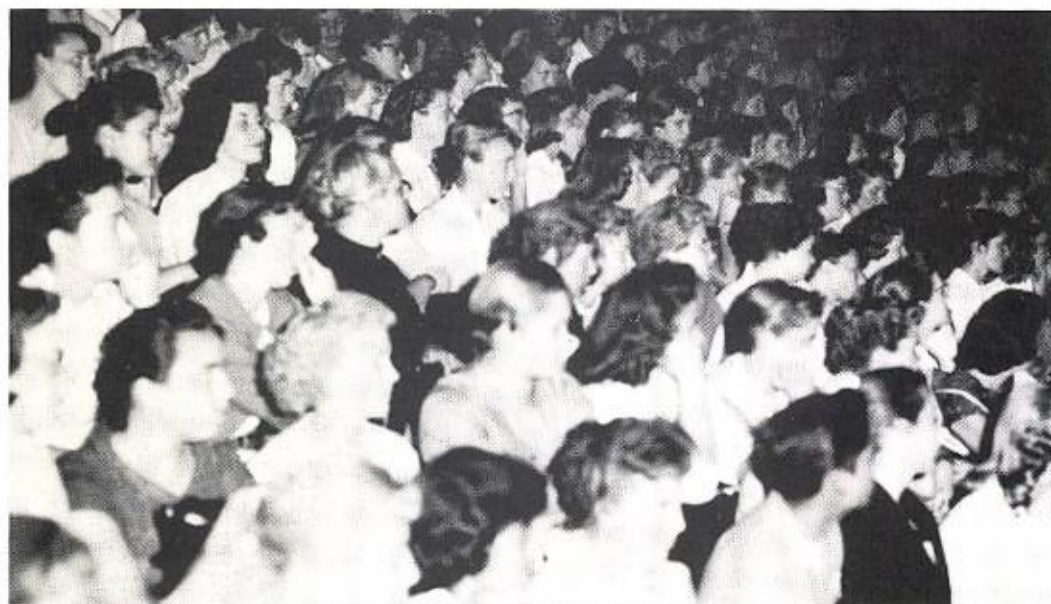

Class of 1961

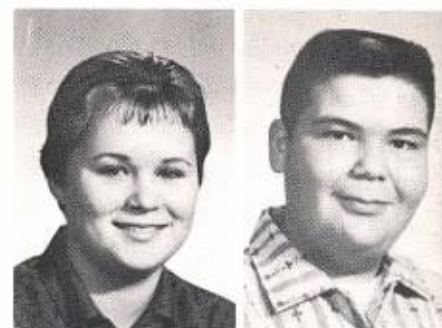

Because of hard work and skillful planning each project undertaken was a success. Everyone responded to the "Victory Dance," making the first junior activity a popular affair. At Back-to-School Night each year juniors are given the project of selling refreshments; because of all-out co-operation more money was made selling cakes than in any previous year. January's "Winter Dance" was just as successful as the first dance of the year. The Country Fair Breakfast was so popular when the juniors sponsored it in their sophomore year that they decided to make it a yearly project. All juniors' efforts were rewarded, when at the climax of the year they produced the most extravagant prom ever held.

The Beginning

All class of '61 officers explained their duties and committees at first junior class assembly. Members were told they could contribute to the many projects planned to assure a super-colossal prom.

Money Maker

Every year during Back-to-School Night Junior class members are given the project of selling cakes to the parents in order to raise money for the prom. This year due to the leadership of Jerry Harmon, Claudia Sorenson, and David Kealy, and because of the overwhelming response of class members, more money was raised than any one time in Pacific's history. A total of three hundred and seventy five dollars was taken in for the prom.

In England, teenagers study English Literature and Language Geography, History, Scripture, Math, Cookery Theory, Needlework Theory, Practical Architecture, and Biology.

Preparation for a Southern Serenade

The actual night of the Prom lasted only three hours, but it took nine full months of preparation. The juniors started making plans in September for the big night, while the seniors sat back and anticipated the event at the end of the year. The preparation started with money raising projects to cover expenses such as the selection of Lex Golden's Band. The promotion and decoration committees began their work after the theme, Southern Serenade, was decided upon.

The promotion committee was in charge of the making and printing of the tickets. The formally engraved ticket was specially designed before being sent to the printer.

Decorations were the biggest single project of preparation. All the decorations pointed to a colonial type theme. The decoration committee went into Los Angeles during the first part of the year to order special back drops and drapes for scenery. In March, they started making flower chains and special props to be used. Three days before the actual big night juniors were out of classes working like bees to get everything set up on time.

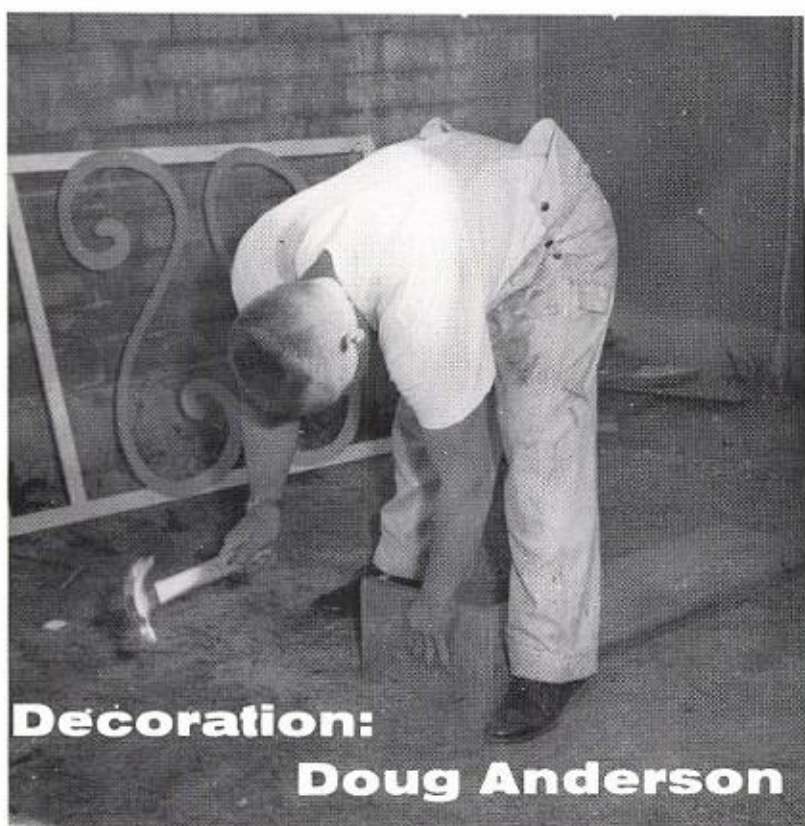

When all the scurrying and planning was through, the scene set on a Southern fantasy land of enjoyment and all the work seemed worthwhile.

Good Luck

fun having you as a senior. I hope you have fun this fall*

The Senior year represents to a graduating student a seemingly final preparation point for several roads he might follow when he receives his degree. These roads, which compose very important focal points in our culture, further education, employment in a vocational field, the Armed Services and marriage, reflect characteristics from the mores and folkways of other lands.

Senior officers: Robin MacDonald, Representative; Smiley Paredes, Representative; Sandi Del George, Representative; Joe Momyer, President; Luan Knotts, Vice-President; Sarah Knuppenburg, Secretary; and Barbara Kuykendall, Treasurer.

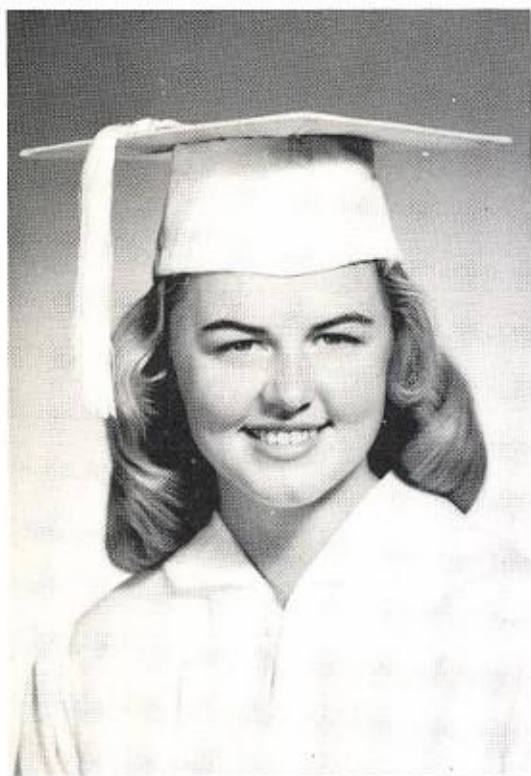

The senior class sponsors, Dr. Schuiling, Mrs. Thompson, and Mr. Lopez, have spent much time and effort in helping and advising the senior cabinet and the senior committees. The responsibilities of such a large class are divided among the three sponsors, each one in charge of certain sections of senior activity, yet all helping one another. Mr. Lopez is directly in charge of helping the officers with the special class projects such as the senior directory, the Crystal Ball and the Country Fair booth; Mrs. Thompson handles the ordering and distribution of equipment such as caps and gowns and graduation announcements; and Dr. Schuiling is directly concerned with the activities of Senior Week — graduation, baccalaureate, and senior assemblies. On the night of graduation, the sponsors say good-bye to their class with Mr. Lopez and Mrs. Thompson leading the procession and with Dr. Schuiling following the class.

Class of 1960

The 1960 graduating class, led by the above officers, was very busy. They began the year by voting to graduate in purple and white robes. Senior parking places were given to 58 anxious seniors whose names were drawn from among the 200 who had signed up. In October the class distinguished themselves by winning the Pacificana sales contest and were treated to the movie "Three Coins in a Fountain." The class officers worked hard to get the Senior Directory, containing names, addresses, and phone numbers of nearly all seniors published before Christmas vacation. The Crystal Ball, sponsored by the senior class, started Christmas vacation for the lucky 150 couples who got the first tickets. By means of this dance and their pizza booth at County Fair, the class earned enough money to sponsor such fun filled activities as the senior picnic, swim and breakfast at the end of the year. The class officers set a new tradition by being the first cabinet to have officer's pins. The Class of Eminence brought their high school life to a close with the activities of the last week — the awards and scholarship assemblies, baccalaureate, graduation, and the graduation dance.

Valedictorians

Louisa Gilliams

No one could ever express my feelings toward Pacific and the Class of '60. Graduating in June has suddenly become a reality, and all too soon; yet, graduation represents a long awaited goal—a turning point in our lives. Now each individual student must pursue his future, whether it be to further his education or to find his place in the working world. Pacific has made every effort to prepare us for whichever course we follow. We have been given the opportunity—now it is our turn to give—to give thanks and appreciation to those who have helped us establish our goals and apply our aptitudes acquired throughout our Pacific years. The challenge of happiness and success lies before us, and we must learn to cope with its obstacles. Now is the time to prove ourselves worthy of the training we have received. Graduation marks the climax to three years of learning and acquiring the knowledge necessary to meet life.

Louisa Gilliams

Elaine Temple

Adults reflect on youth as a time of happiness, filled with new and exciting experiences. High school students see youth as a struggle filled with enormous conflicts between love and hate, hope and fear, happiness and despair, success and failure. As time tempers past problems, age inevitably brings new ones.

As I face the full realization of being thrust into the turmoil of this atomic age after leaving the security of school, I wonder if my fond memories will soon be overshadowed by the immediacies of adult life. I think I can never forget the awesomeness of sophomore orientation day, or the loneliness of my first classes, and now the melancholia at the thought of leaving. These three years—the classes, the teachers, the games, the parties, the friends, the rivals, the mistakes, the lessons—have prepared me to face the future with confidence.

I cannot say which experiences, which acquaintances, or which feelings gathered from Pacific will remain in my memory or which will be erased by time, but I can say that I will always have the basic training I have gained here. I think that I can speak for every member of the Class of 1960 when I say that "our regrets are few for we have all this to remember."

Elaine Temple

Salutatorian

James Wright

As each senior walks down the aisle on graduation night, ending twelve years of public schooling, his thoughts turn to the preceding graduates as well as those of the future. Whether this night is the end of his formal schooling or the beginning of an even higher education, the graduate pauses to think of the contributions former classes have made to his school, without which his class could not have performed its many activities. In turn this graduate considers those achievements his class had made for the benefit of those to follow.

We, as the Class of 1960, may well be proud of our accomplishments. Everyone will remember this year for the overwhelming capture of the basketball and wrestling crowns, which will provide the fighting spirit needed for future Pacific championships. Our scholastic record was impressive, too. Among other feats, we produced six merit scholarship finalists and easily recaptured the circulating trophy at the Valley College Language Field Day. Our drama and music departments were credited with such achievements as the production of Wilder's "Our Town" and the rating of "superior" in the regional music festival.

All of these accomplishments have served to make Pacific a finer school. And as Pacific improves, so do its students. Long after our class is forgotten, the results of our undertakings will remain.

ing on the initial plans for the dance (above left). The decoration committee, headed by senior class treasurer Barbara Kuykendall, spent many hours in the preliminary preparation of the large cellophane crystal which hung from the center of the cafeteria.

The day of the dance was a busy one for those in charge of putting up the gleaming decorations. When all was ready, the lucky 150 couples who had gotten the first tickets came and danced under the "crystal ball." When the clock struck twelve, the last of the dancers left, as did Louis Meisinger and Lynne-Tanya Cherry (above right), with a slight feeling of remorse after such an enjoyable evening. Thus went the stages in the development of one of Pacific's notable dances.

Sharon Reed and Leroy Purvis are found matching wits as they chat in Senior Plaza. They were selected by their classmates as two of the "wittiest" seniors. Sharon has been noted on campus for her work as Governor of Publications on Student Council and as Club Editor of the annual. She is an active member of many clubs and can be seen at the sports events as head majorette, twirling her baton. Leroy was vice-president of his sophomore class and has participated in football and baseball throughout high school. He is also a member of several clubs on campus.

750 seniors enjoyed their last year of high school filled with activities, classes, friends

Precariously perched on the Rock of Champions in the corner of the "quad" are three of the "Most Mischievous" members of the senior class. They are Pat Goodcell, Don Kinnear, and Barbara Bailey. These three are well known on campus for their activities, both constructive and enjoyable. Pat is a varsity cheerleader; Barbara is a varsity pom pon; and Don works on the sports staff of the Pacificana. Known for their zany actions around campus, these seniors have achieved a distinction all their own. Although they have fun, they have proven themselves beneficial and an asset to Pacific. Gay pirates lead a happy carefree life, yet always remember their responsibilities to others.

A privilege given only to seniors is that of parking their cars in the spaces reserved for "senior parking." Of the two hundred who registered for one of these spaces, only fifty-eight names could be drawn. The portion of the lot closest to the cafetorium is shown below with a few students nonchalantly making their way toward class because they don't have far to walk. In connection with the campus and the special privileges of upperclassmen, the graduates of 1960 will always remember such things as the beautiful view of the P.E. and Ag departments and of the San Bernardino mountains in the background of this picture.

Both of these students are very active in school and in the community, and they both earn very good grades in their studies. John is A.S.B. President, and Karen is A.S.B. Vice-president. They work together to make Pacific one of the outstanding schools in this area.

Candidly posing in the Student Council room are five of the "Best Looking" members of the class of 1960; standing, are Rory McCullough and Ron Perales; seated, are Luan Knotts, Judy Price, and Sue Albretsen. Besides being good looking, these students take an active part in campus life. All five of them can usually be seen at any major sports event: Luan, Judy and Sue as varsity pompons, Rory as a member of the marching band, and Ron as a football player and sports fan.

Admiring some of Pacific's treasured trophies are prominent seniors, John Lang, Jan Loop, and Mike Sloan, considered by their classmates as the "Best Sports" there are. These three are avid sports fans and have proven their admirable sportsmanship in many situations encountered at Pacific. Mike is a star varsity football player, John a star of the varsity basketball team, and Jan is noted as an outstanding tennis player. But these students have done more than take part in sports; they, along with other Pacificans, have brought honor to Pacific for outstanding sportsmanship.

The "leap year" class of 1960 has many hours of fun and work to remember

For approximately 175 days out of the year seniors got up in the morning and went to school. The highlights of a typical school day in the life of an average senior are shown in the above pictures. After leaving their cars in the parking lot in the morning, they go through the quad to meet their friends before school begins. Then off to classes where they participate in varied types of activities such as the panel discussion shown above. Sometimes there is a group activity similar to the one pictured of the seniors seeing a movie as a prize for buying the most annuals. The west lawn and Senior Park greet many seniors during the lunch periods. It's back to some more classes in the afternoon and then home or on to other activities after school. Within a few minutes of the closing of classes for the day, the once crowded quad begins to look deserted.

Becky Barbour and Smiley Paredes, selected as two of the "Friendliest" seniors, display their usual good humor as they sit in the quad, discussing incidents of the day over a glass of lemonade. A sincere "hi" is the favorite word of their everyday vocabulary. Wherever they are seen, it is very seldom that they are caught without a smile. Well-liked by their classmates and teachers alike, Becky and Smiley contribute to the buoyant atmosphere of the school. Becky is "head" varsity cheerleader, and Smiley is a senior class representative. Any activity, whether serious or fun, is vivified by the presence of one or both of these students.

Selected by members of the senior class as representative of the "Most Likely To Succeed" are Louis Meisinger and Susan Threath. As they sit in the Freedom Shrine room of the library, they look at pictures of faraway places and muse about the future. Sue is editor-in-chief of the Pacificana; Louis is chairman of a youth code committee and a varsity tennis player; and, in addition, both are active in various clubs and committees on campus. Both of these students have a high scholastic standing, and are looking forward to college and future life, as are most seniors, now that their high school careers are drawing to a close.

Casually posing by the anchor in Senior Park on a windy day are two of the "Best Dressed" senior pirates, John Oliver and Patti Vacco. Not only do these two dress well, but they also work well for the school. Both of them are on Student Council; John is Assistant Governor of Domain; and Patti is Chairman of Speech. John is Sports Editor of the Annual and can be seen at nearly all school sports events. He is also President of Mutineers and a member of California Education Club. Patti is well known on campus for her speech activities. She has won many speech awards and is a representative in the National Forensic League. She is also secretary of Inter-Club Council, a member of Sobobans, and was the first President of KD's here on campus. True to the tradition of Pacific and of the "Class of Eminence" John and Patti believe in doing things "first class all the way."

All seniors with a "B" average or better were interviewed by members of the scholarship committee here at school and by downtown business and professional personnel in a practice situation for college and scholarship interviews. Shown interviewing one of our National Merit finalists, Steve Peterson, are Miss Overbey, Mr. Jones and Mr. Stancer. Pacific is very proud of its many scholarship and award winners and works very hard to help prepare them for the difficult competition they will encounter while attending college.

Students who served Pacific during their own spare time doing such things as singing or playing piano for school functions, making flower arrangements for school activities, or doing secretarial work in the library or student store were given service awards. Pins were awarded for 40 hours of work in one year; sweaters were given to seniors who had worked 40 hours for two consecutive years. Pictured below are some seniors who received pins as juniors. They are Karen Schneider, Beverly Pinkerton, Gene Scott, and Pauline Jackson.

Senior Week

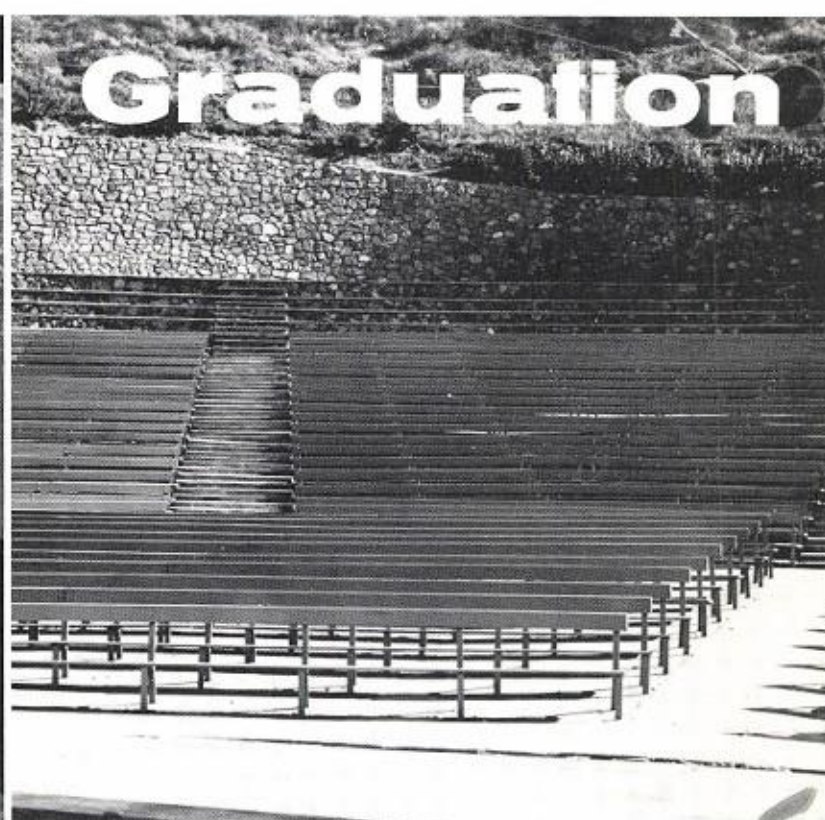

With many last minute activities before graduation night, seniors followed a busy schedule during the last week. June 7, 8, 9 found them taking final exams and saying goodbye to high school classes. The next few days were filled with class meetings, practice sessions, awards and scholarship assemblies, a picnic and swim, baccalaureate, a breakfast, graduation and the graduation ball. Carolynn Grace and Lloyd Richey admired their newly donned caps and gowns while Mrs. Thompson measured to see if the size was right. At Perris Hill Bowl Sue Threatt, Greg Storey, Karen Dyal and John Kennedy practiced marching in step with the music. Gerry Brimmer, Jacky Swafford and Elaine Temple were photographed in the kitchen in the act of sampling the food for the senior breakfast. Excited seniors, John Oliver, Sandy Taylor, Jack Wilcox and Elaine Temple eagerly carried supplies from school to the park for the senior picnic. Senior class president Joe Momyer and vice-president Luan Knotts bade farewell to Pacific High School from the Class of 1960. The day after graduation was quiet, and Perris Hill Bowl looked lonely and deserted after having seen its last graduating class.

From the beginning of civilization many peoples have formed groups for discussions of happenings, for enacting services, for furthering an interest and for finding enjoyment in companionship.

At Pacific, 49 clubs participated in the Inter-Club Council, the largest number ever to be recognized on campus.

Inter-Club Council

The Inter-Club Council consists of a representative from each club on campus, usually the president, who comes to the meetings to discuss ways of improving club activities and projects and to exchange ideas. The council meets on the last Friday of each month in the Teachers' Cafeteria to plan the month's club functions.

Remember those clean gym walls? The Condors busily scrubbed the unwanted foreign matter from the girls' gym. The hard working crew (left to right) was Norvelle Hester, Mel Sayer, Don Kinnear, and Byron Hahn. Another industrious group on campus was Dantes. Deep in thought, Lynn Cherry, Kathy Stoddard president, Ginger Collins, and Nancy Passino plan for the Pacific Forum.

Honor Clubs

The honor clubs on the Pacific campus provide recognition for academic and service achievement and social activity for those students who qualify through excellence in citizenship, academic standing and achievement records: CSF, Pacific branch, is limited to those students having exceptionally high grade standing in college preparatory subjects. Sobobans and Zonta Z's require certain degrees of high achievement in grades, school and community service, and personal achievement in elected offices

Social Service Clubs

The social service club group includes the greater amount of organizations on campus. Individual matriculation standings are similar for all social service clubs, varying in only a few aspects. The student's entrance, voted on by club members, depends greatly on school and community service, but also requires average grade standing and participation on campus.

Some of the activities undertaken by the social service clubs on campus were as follows: typing envelopes for the Crippled Children's Society by Lehis, selling fudge by Dantes, ushering at many civic events by the Pagettes, working at the County Hospital by Debuts, taking charge of the Thanksgiving Basket Drive by Girls' League, selling tacos by Latin American Club, washing the gym walls by the Condors, whitewashing the "P" by the Galahads, and Mutineers won sweepstakes in the homecoming parade.

International Service Club Affiliates

Although this division of clubs is very similar to the social service club, it has a definite distinction in an affiliation with international adult service clubs, such as Kiwanis and the Optimists clubs.

Some of the services performed by the international service club affiliates are as follows: the Key Club sends boys to assist in the maintenance of the Boys' Ranch in Devore each weekend and they also sell pep ribbons at all of our football games. The Junior Optimists participate in the Youth Week sponsored by the Optimist Club.

Hi-Y Clubs

Some clubs on campus are sponsored by community organizations such as the Red Cross or Campfire Girls of San Bernardino. The Junior Red Cross club, activates in coordination with the Red Cross organization, helps to provide a medium of opportunity to its members in learning about the purpose, responsibilities and organization of that service group. The Horizon club, an all girls organization, is affiliated with the Campfire Girls, giving them the opportunity to coordinate projects for service and social activity.

Language Arts Clubs

For those students who are active in speech and foreign languages, the language arts clubs have been organized. They offer a wide range of activities for the interested students. To be a member of one of the language clubs a student must have better than average grades in either speech, Spanish, or French. The National Forensic League members participate in all forms of speech competition. They have brought honor and recognition to Pacific with many trophies and awards to show for their efforts. The Spanish students participate in many festivals and projects concerned with learning the language and customs of the Spanish speaking people. French students further their knowledge through French films and they also hold an annual Mardi Gras.

Spanish students, Pat Pruitt, Sharleen Sanderson, Kathy Barnes, and Nancy Simpson, performed a skit as part of their initiation into Los Conquistadores.

Special Interest Clubs

Membership in a special interest club is determined greatly by the student's interest and enthusiasm for a certain subject. Usually a student must have average grade standings and have had participated in some aspect of school service or activity; but, since this type of club serves to instruct and provide activity in a certain field of interest, the advance of this interest by club members is given more consideration.

Team effort was the keyword upmost in the minds of the players of the 1959 Varsity squad. Almost fifty students came out for Varsity ball in the fall of the year. Half of the boys were new to the Varsity squad, as were three of the coaches.

With a line averaging 195 pounds and a very speedy backfield, Pacific was in position for a successful season.

Practice from 3:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M. after school was an everyday occurrence for the Varsity squad. Fumble practice, running drills, tackling practice, and scrimmages helped in developing teamwork and muscular co-ordination.

Before actual league playing began, the squad encountered non-league teams. During these games the coach decided what he needed to stress in practice before league play started.

With a two win and four loss record, the team came in fifth in CBL standings. Although Pacific was weak in a wins record this season, it showed great promise for future development, through classmen and lettermen returning in 1960, with a strong potential as a prospective champion.

Football Coaching Staff

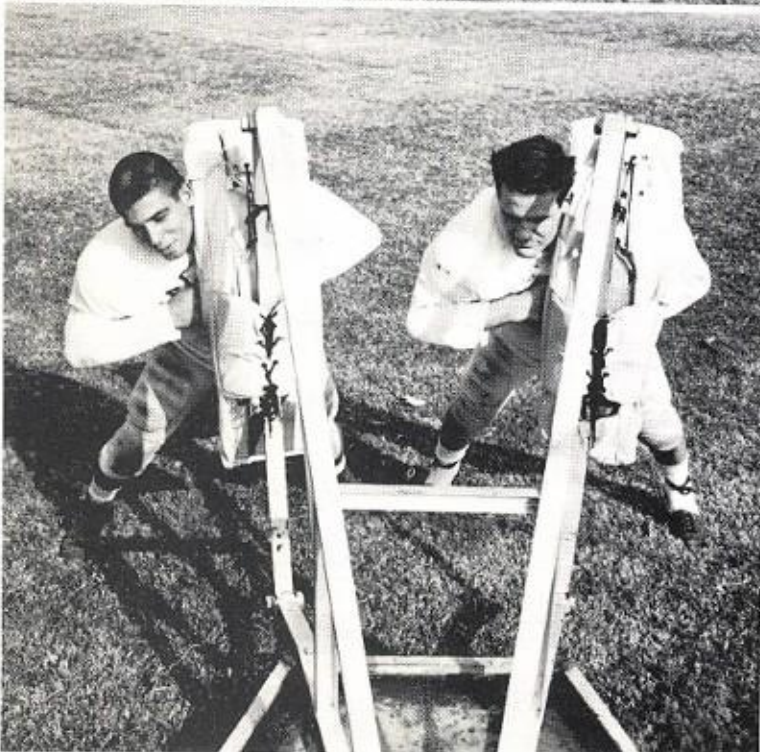

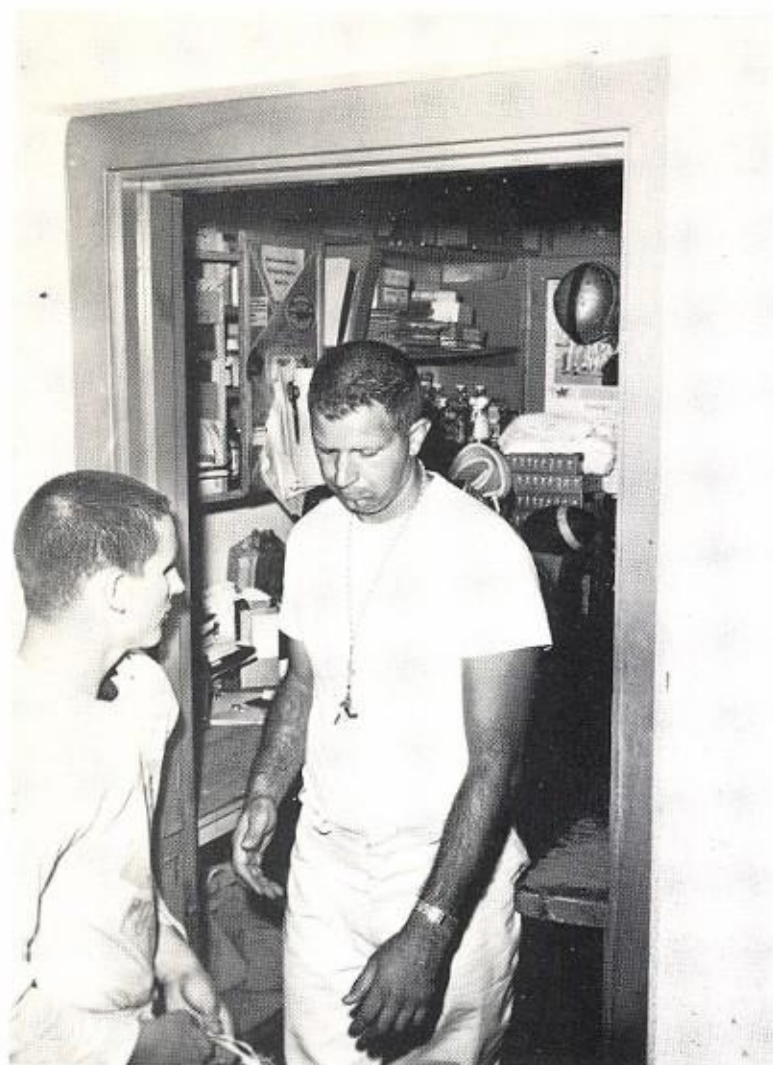

Coach Joe Lash, Pacific's new football mentor, headed a versatile sports staff this year. Before coming to Pacific, Mr. Lash had held the position of Head Coach at Colton, and in the 1958 season his team captured the CBL Championship.

One of the 1959 backfield coaches was Doug Brooks. Fairly new to coaching high school football, he had a good season with this year's backfield.

Bill Neel, the other backfield coach, had been coaching all major and minor sports since 1935. He had also held the job of Director of Athletics in the Nevada Public High School District. This year was his second year on the Varsity football staff.

Ralph Caulo was assistant coach of the Junior Varsity team in 1958, and the line coach of the 1959 Varsity team.

After two weeks of training, the members of the team were issued their uniforms by the coach. Then, in practice jerseys, the team had inter-squad scrimmages. One of the other methods of training was pushing the 2-man sled. Much of the team's equipment consisted of miles of tape which is used each year to strengthen sprained muscles, ankles, and legs.

Again Pacific's "B" team won their annual bout with the Cardettes of SBHS. Our "B" team boasts a record of never having lost a game to Berdoo since Pacific's team originated five years ago. Another hi-lite of the season was a night game against East Bakersfield in the Orange Show Stadium. This was the only such game all season. The team ended the season with a 2-4 record in league competition.

Jim Hudson (30), a defensive linebacker, moves in for a tackle in the Riverside Poly game. During the "B's" season, Jerry Mitchell (44) gained many yards for the team. In the East Bakersfield game he proved a major asset to the offensive squad.

A familiar sight before and during game time-outs was the team huddle. In many ways this custom was a representation of the teamwork which won the CBL title for us. The starting squad members were usually Art Dean, Mike Shehan, Howard Braham, Tom O'Neill, John Kennedy, and John Lang.

Coach
Webster

1959-1960 Varsity Basketball

Pacific High School secured its first CBL basketball championship and the first basketball crown won by a San Bernardino school in fourteen years.

The Pirates, under the direction of Coach Bob Webster entered CBL competition with a pre-season record of 9-2, having lost only to a rugged Antelope Valley team. They defeated this same squad once during the pre-season play. Another significant victory before CBL play was the trouncing of South Pasadena, 70-42, a school scoring record. John Kennedy led the scoring in this victory with 27 points, another school record.

Through the first round of CBL play, Pacific was undefeated and racked up a nerve-straining victory against SBHS. Berdoo held a 14-point edge in the second quarter, but the rugged Bucs overcame this deficit to beat the Redbirds before a crowd of 2525 screaming fans.

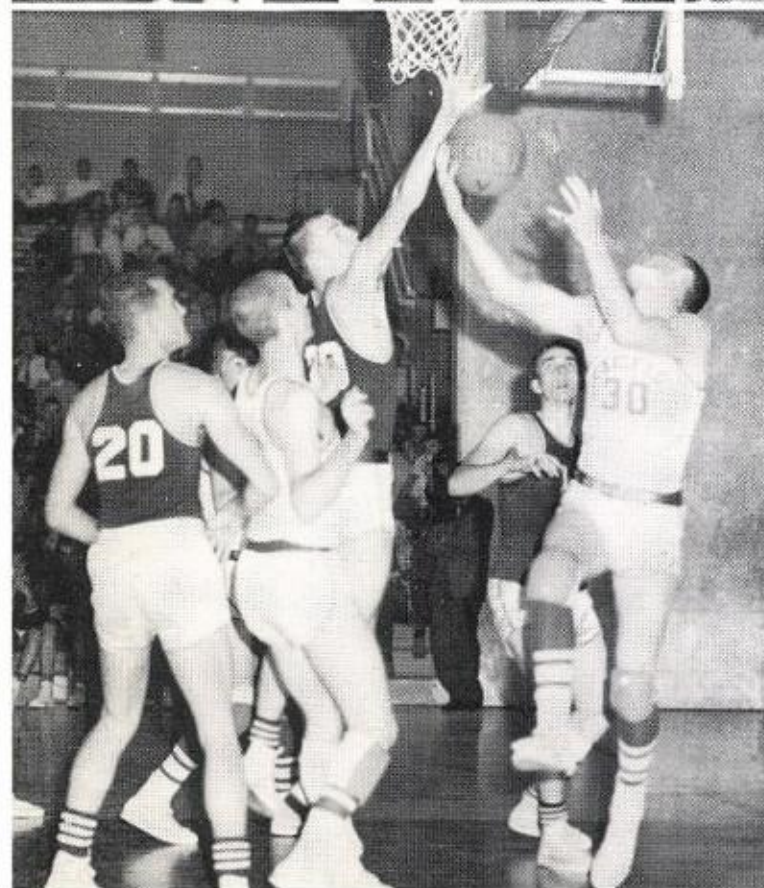

Not until midway into the second round of play were the Bucs finally squelched. The team lost a close 57-55 decision to Riverside in the final minutes of play, the first blemish on a perfect record.

After losing their second game with San Bernardino, the squad defeated Ramona 61-39 on the Ram courts to cinch the CBL championship. They finished the league season with an unfortunate loss to Redlands and were eliminated in the CIF quarter-finals.

One of the biggest accomplishments of the year lay in the fact that Pacific's cagers defeated every team they played this year at least once. This record has never been approached at any other time in the school's history.

The first five members of the team included co-captains John Kennedy and John Lang, Tom O'Neill, Howard Braham, and Art Dean. Each of these five was an invaluable aid to the team effort and received high praise for his aggressiveness and ball-handling ability during the whole season. This type of play broke all defenses used against the Bucs. They literally ran their opponents off the courts. These five were backed up by a strong second squad with Dave Murray and Mike Shehan spearheading the attack. Every member of the team deserves high praise for his part in contributing to Pacific's first CBL basketball championship.

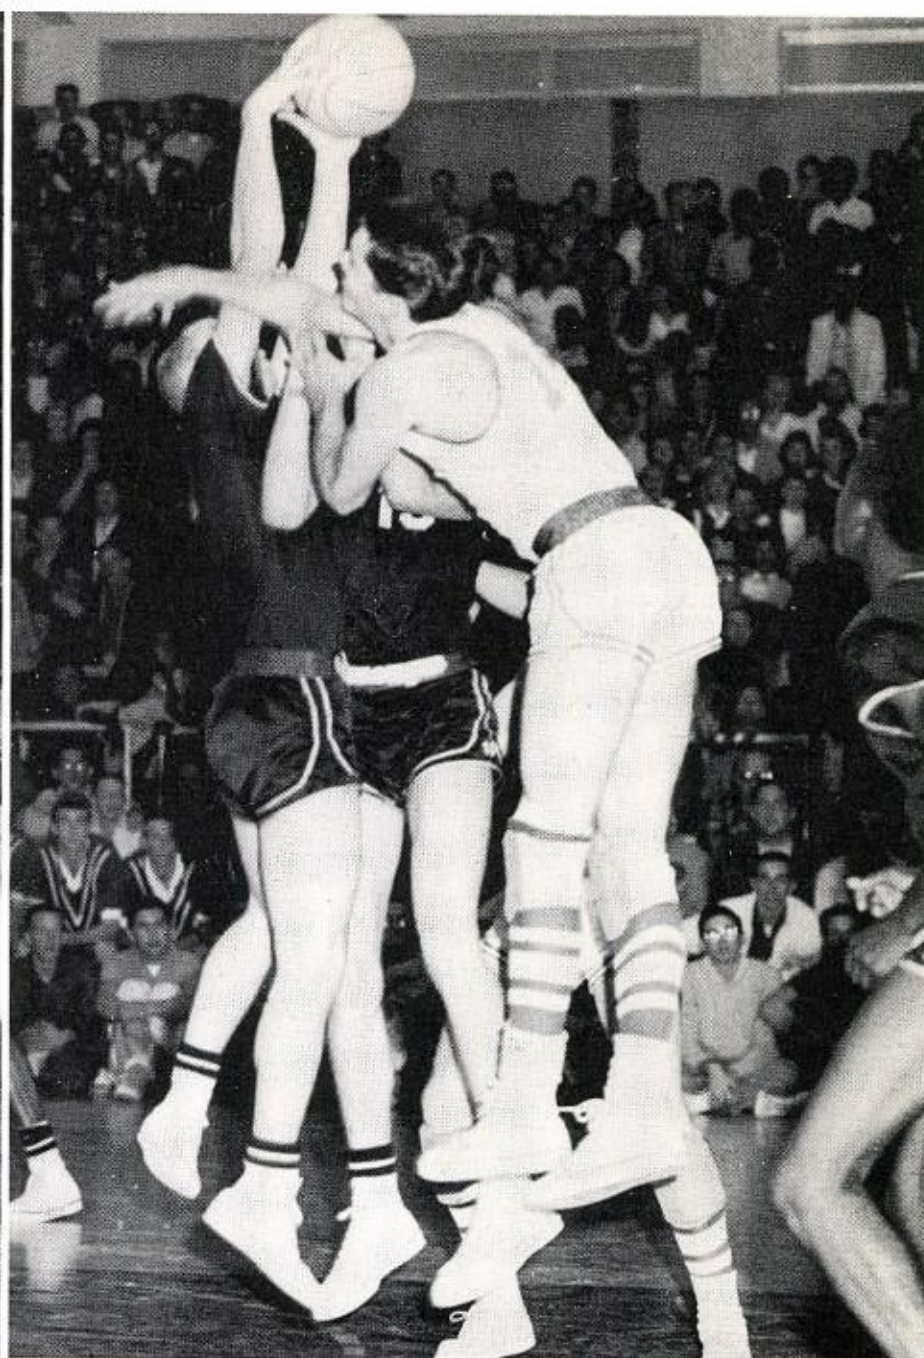

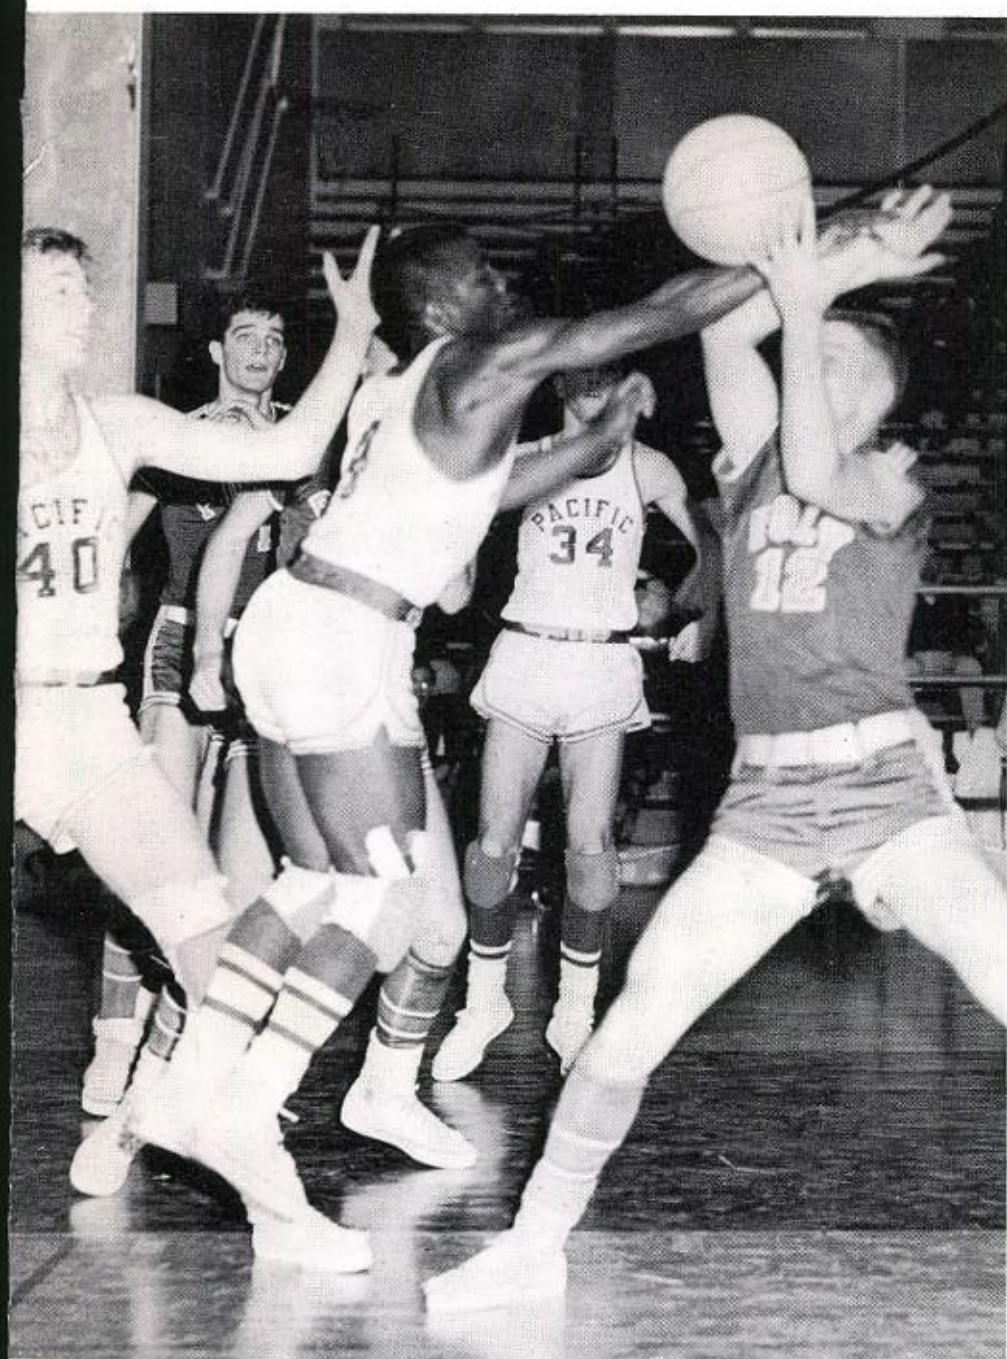

Pacific had one of the shortest squads in CBL in average height. Coach Webster took advantage of the smaller team and developed our squad into a very fast breaking team. The fast-break and the straight-forward aggressiveness helped keep the cagers on top all season. The pictures on the left show some of the Pirates using their special ability for rebounding in offensive and defensive play.

During CBL season

Pacific's annual Sports Award Banquet on March 29 was sponsored by the Booster Club. The night was highlighted by the presentation of the basketball awards. The award for the Most Valuable player was given to all five starting players because they were all equally deserving of the award. John Lang, John Kennedy, Tom O'Neill, Howard Braham, and Art Dean, were honored with this award. Lang and Kennedy were given plaques as co-captains and a picture from Cas Sermack. Dean was presented with the Sportsmanship award. Howard Braham was voted as Best Defensive player. Most Improved was Dave Murray. John Kennedy received the Free-throw award with a season average of 71.5. The sports editors of the Sun Telegram picked basketball coach Bob Webster as Coach of the Year.

Winners of the 1960 CBL Championship

This year Coach Harold Southworth led his fine JV basketball team to the first CBL championship a Junior Varsity team from Pacific has ever won. The team piled up an impressive 17-4 record for the season with nine CBL victories and only three defeats. High point man for the season was DeWayne Brewer with a sizzling 12.0 average per game. The talented junior guard scored in double figures in his nine CBL games. Vern Brooks was second behind Brewer with a 7.9 average for the season. Highlights of the 1960 season included a narrow victory over Redlands in a double overtime joust, and twin victories over SBHS.

Cross Country

Wayne Starne placed third in CBL competition

This year's Cross Country Team started the season with a new course and mentor. Sheet metal teacher Jim Miller coached the team through a rough season.

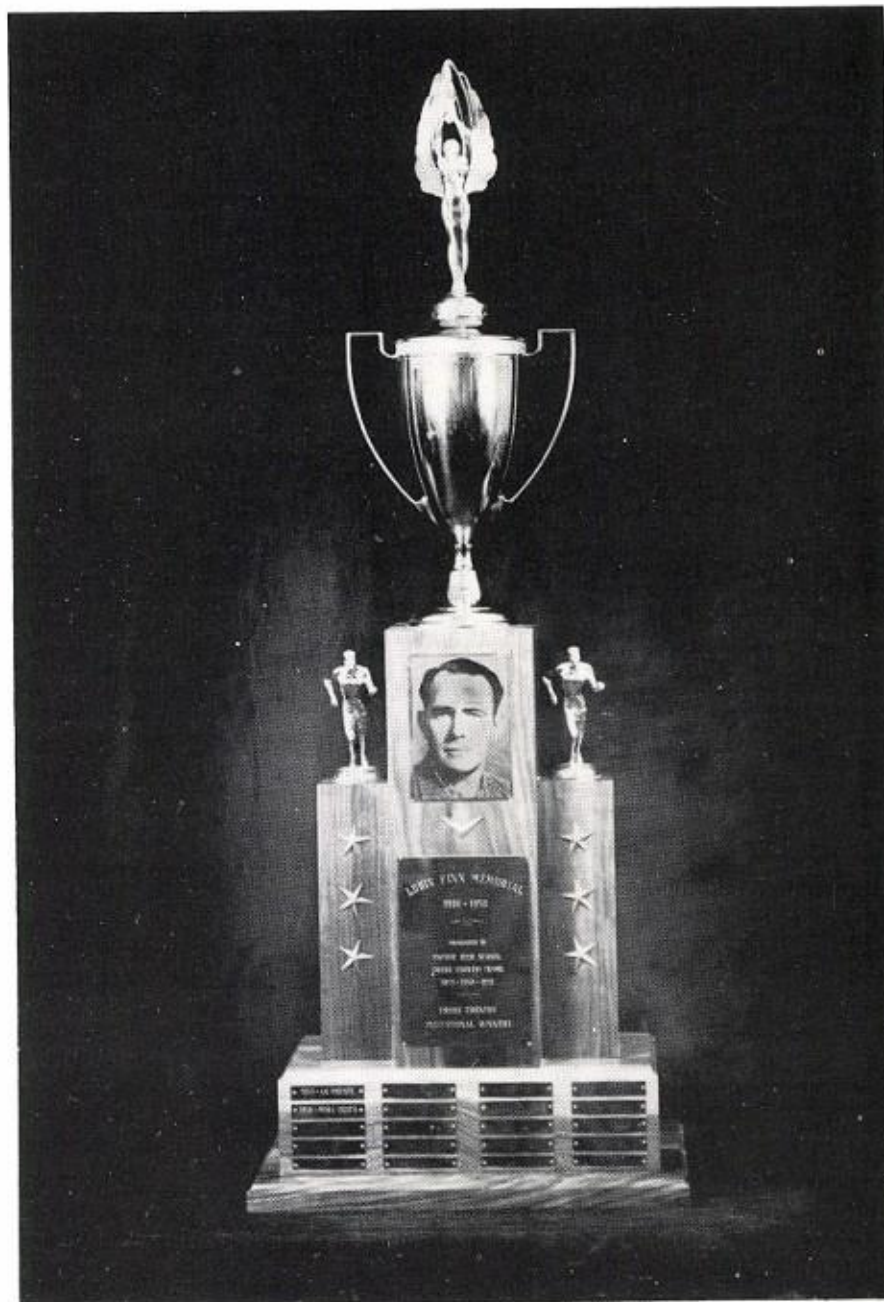

The Louis Finn Cross Country Memorial Course, a dream fulfilled, is recognized as the best in the southland. The new course is exposed to viewers on the Pacific side of Perris Hill and all runners will be visible as they cover the entire run. It is on record as a most favorable location, having natural facilities and semi-hilly terrain rather than the commonly known flat land course generally found in most areas. Because of its outstanding quality, the CBL finals and the CIF preliminary were held here.

Wayne Starne was voted "Most Valuable" by his teammates for the second year. The 1.8 mile course record was broken this year by Starne with a time of 9 minutes and 37 seconds. Wayne Starne also gained recognition when he was awarded third place in all of the CBL schools.

Louis Finn Memorial Trophy

Every year Pacific High holds a cross country meet for all of the schools in Southern California. About forty schools usually attend this big contest held at nearby Perris Hill Park. The winner of the Pacific Invitational has its name engraved on the Louis Finn Memorial Trophy, awarded in memory of the late Mr. Louis Finn, who died as a result of an accident on the track in 1959.

Pacific's CIF Champions were: Row 1: Lon Telles, George Taylor, Jim Miskin. Row 2: Charles Tribble, Coach Al Liles, Claude Potts.

Wrestling

Pirates capture first CBL and CIF Championships

Pacific High's champion wrestling team, only four years old, claimed the first Southern California Interscholastic Federation title for the city of San Bernardino since 1925, following its overwhelming triumph late in February at Redondo Beach.

More than 96 wrestlers and 60 high schools fell under Coach Al Liles' Buc grapplers as they walked off with the team title. This was the only wrestling championship ever to enter the Inland Empire and the first known CIF title in any sport to come to San Bernardino, since the SBHS Cardinals came home with the CIF diadem for baseball in 1956.

The fact that this is only the third season of competition for the Pirates in CBL wrestling makes their feat in winning the championship a remarkable one. Liles headed a class of wrestlers in 1955 and formed a team in 1956.

The Bucs also came out on top of the CBL-CIF loop in three out of five tournaments this season. The annual CBL Invitational Tournament over Christmas vacation saw Pacific victorious with seven champions and a 37 point lead over second-place SBHS. In the CBL playoffs the Pirates came up with six champions and 105 points compared with second-place Colton's 51. The Bucs then advanced to Redondo Beach and took the CIF lead with a score of 37 to the second place team's 28.

Citrus Belt League did not start for CBL schools until 1957, and this season saw Pacific march through all six opponents without dropping a match. Coach Bob Chambers one time CBL time king Redlands Terriers were dethroned easily by the ambitious Bucs.

168-pound Charles Tribble and 183-pound Claude Potts paved the way to the crown, Tribble scoring 14 points with two pins and a decision for the championship and Potts scoring 13 points with a pin and two decisions. Both became CIF champions.

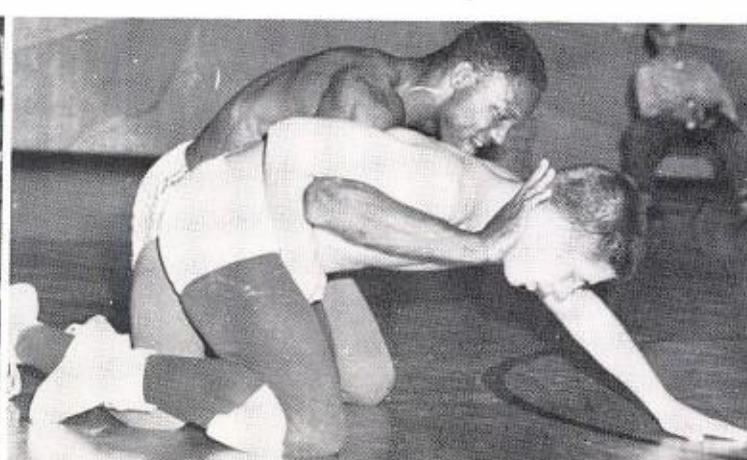

George Taylor, another Buc grappler, wound up with a Southern California second place and nine points for the Pirates. The last point was scored by Lonnie Telles, 115 pounder who was defeated in his last two matches. Jim Miskin did not place in CIF but took an all CBL, as did the others.

The huge CIF trophy was well-earned by the hard-working Pirates because they put in many long hours of hard work throughout the season to bring home this crown. Coach Liles and his dedicated grapplers have a lot to be proud of. The Pacific mat squad cinched the CBL title just a short time before Coach Bob Webster's cagers wrapped up the CBL loop cage crown.

Baseball

Bucs place high in CBL

The 1960 Varsity Baseball Team came from sixth place in the 1958-59 season to capture second place in CBL. This record was made possible by an early season win over SBHS and a tie with Fontana. A pre-season win over Victor Valley 18-4, sent the Pirates to a victorious season.

Fred Pettingill captured the CBL batting crown with a .577 average. Dick Benbow was second in batting with a .555 average. In the middle of the season, L. G. Purvis and Jim Boettcher, both Pirate catchers, were injured in CBL play. Ace third baseman Fred Pettingill was moved to home plate and he finished the season in that position.

Coaching the Varsity Baseball Team was Head Coach Bill Neel and Bob Meade. The J.V. Team was headed by Bob Webster. Coach Charles Lewis mentored the sophomores.

Fred Pettingill, our star third baseman, slammed many a home run to average .577 throughout the season.

As a part of the Bucs versatile pitching staff, Doug McKinster proved invaluable in close situations.

Phil Dunmeyer was an important asset to the team for his abilities in batting and running.

Due to a Steeler error, Pirate catcher Jim Boettcher is shown beating the ball to first.

Pacific's highly rated tennis team, under the direction of Coach Ray Postema, took the CBL title with a last game victory over Redlands. With eight returning lettermen from last year's second place team, Pacific had a well-rounded, experienced team with little to fear from any opponent. The talented netters have the admirable distinction of never finishing a season lower than third place. This is the first CBL title for tennis that Pacific has had. The Pirates finished the season with an 11 win and 2 loss record.

Girls' Physical Education Department

The Girls' Physical Education Department was under the direction of Mrs. Alma Wiles. As department head, she planned the schedule which the Physical Education faculty followed, modernized the teaching program, and ordered the equipment which was used throughout the year.

The Physical Education instructors had many duties besides their regular classes during the day. Miss Wyss had charge of distributing the locks and the general maintenance of the locker room. Miss Peterman kept the equipment in order and in good repair. Miss Totten regulated the towel distribution. Miss Lawrence was in charge of obtaining the necessary office equipment. Mrs. Gresham, although not one of the regular instructors, taught Physical Education third period.

A constructive co-operation between the teachers, such as this discussion between Miss Totten, Miss Lawrence, and Mrs. Gresham, resulted in an active sports program.

Miss Wyss and Miss Peterman plan and discussed the day's procedure to make G.A.A. an efficient club.

Archery

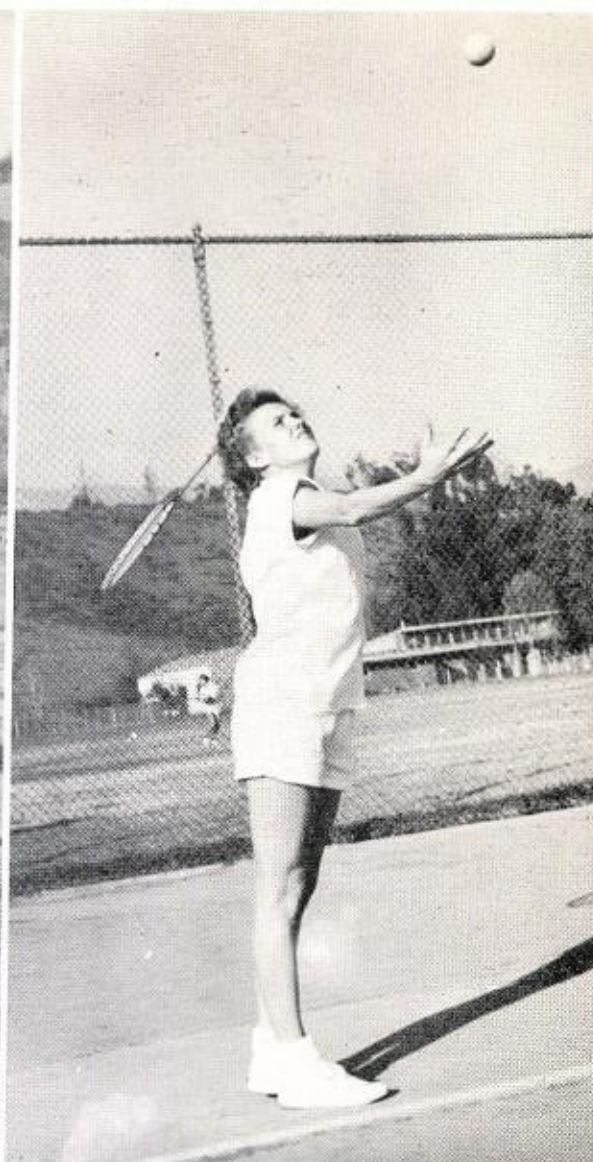

After several weeks of training, Kay Johnson, as well as her classmates, became proficient in archery.

Baseball

Strike one! Special instruction in positions and form was stressed during the softball period. Birdie Fulgham and Barbara Jensen were among those who practiced daily under the instruction of the P.E. teachers.

Tennis

Many girls, like Pat Kniseley, took an active part in the Girls' Physical Education tennis program.

The purpose of the Girls' Physical Education Department was to fulfill the health needs of each girl through exercise and team sports. Sportsmanship and team work were two points of importance stressed.

When weather conditions permitted, tennis, basketball, and golf were played in the fall, and softball and archery in the spring. Volleyball was played the entire year. These sports were the main characteristics in the program.

Volleyball was played by at least one class every day, weather permitting, all year. The teachers stressed this sport because of the physical fitness it developed. Several members of the Girls' Athletic Association, such as Jan Held, Marie Matlock, Sandra Lowry, Carol Salaz, Judy Woertink, and Sandra Warren specialized in volleyball tactics and teamwork.

The modern game of court tennis comes from two English sports, cricket and rounders.

Volleyball

Something new . . . a classroom in the girl's gym! The hi-lite of the year was the course which was taught to sophomores in our newly constructed P.E. classroom. Each class lasted for a period of six weeks. The classroom was used for rules discussions and various class projects.

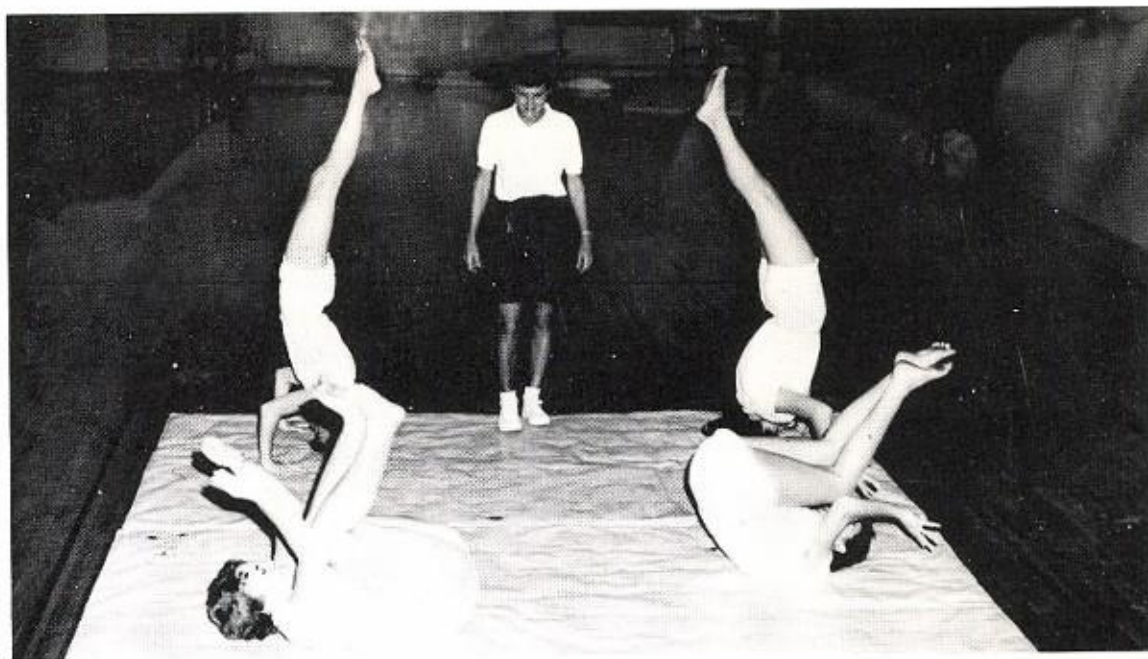

Classroom study, daily exercise

Several classes underwent an instructional period in exercises that would be of practical usage for physical fitness now, and in later life.

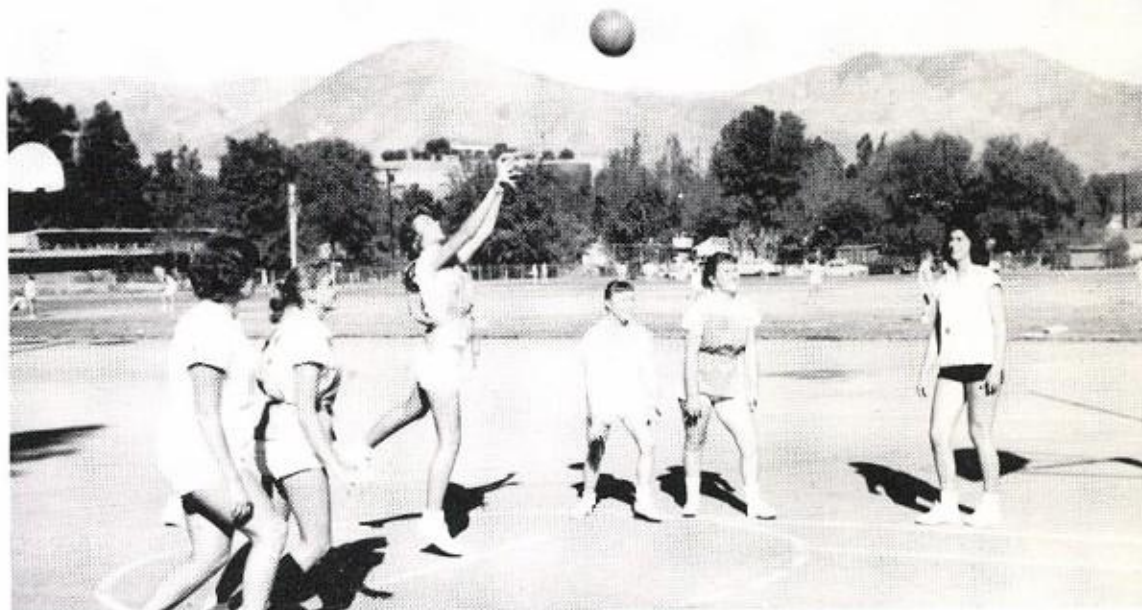

Tumbling

For physical fitness, tumbling was included in many classes this year. Linda Pierce, Sandra Prescott, Julie Pottroff, and Dorothy Lynch did some typical exercises in tumbling for our camera.

Basketball

Last fall, multi-colored cloth pennies and basketballs suddenly appeared in the Sophomore and Junior activity of fundamental sports drills. Eileen Hodges, Judy Hudson, Sandy Owens, Janie Fogt, Wanda Jones, and Linda Matlock went through a procedure that was many times repeated in the process of learning good basketball form.

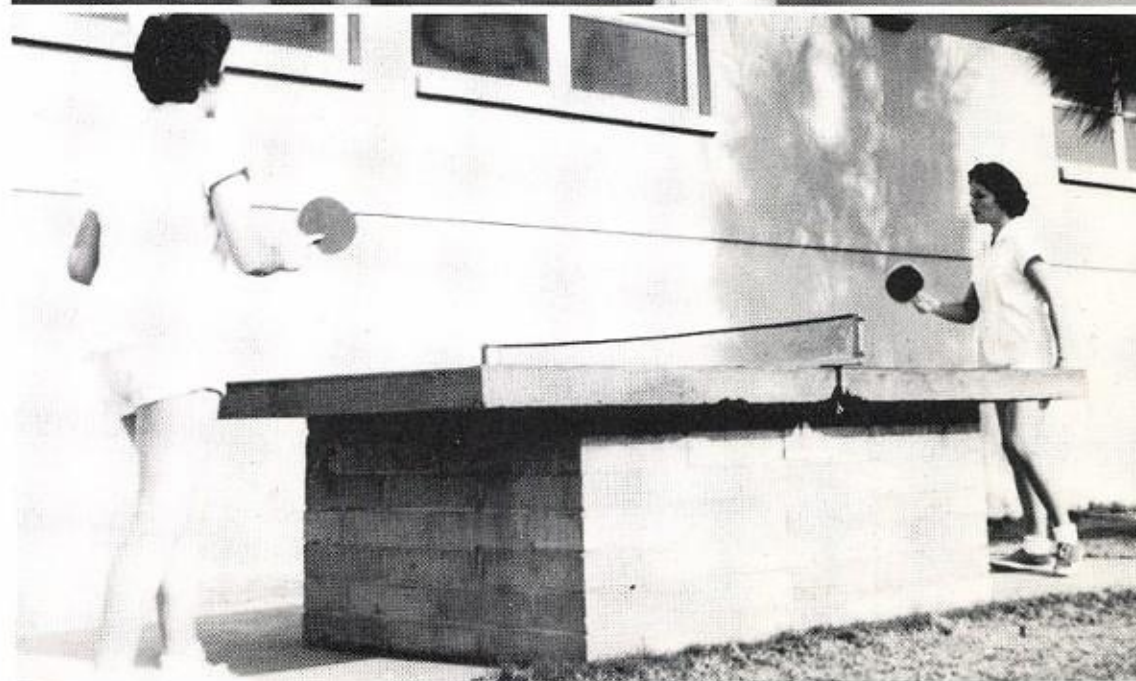

Badminton

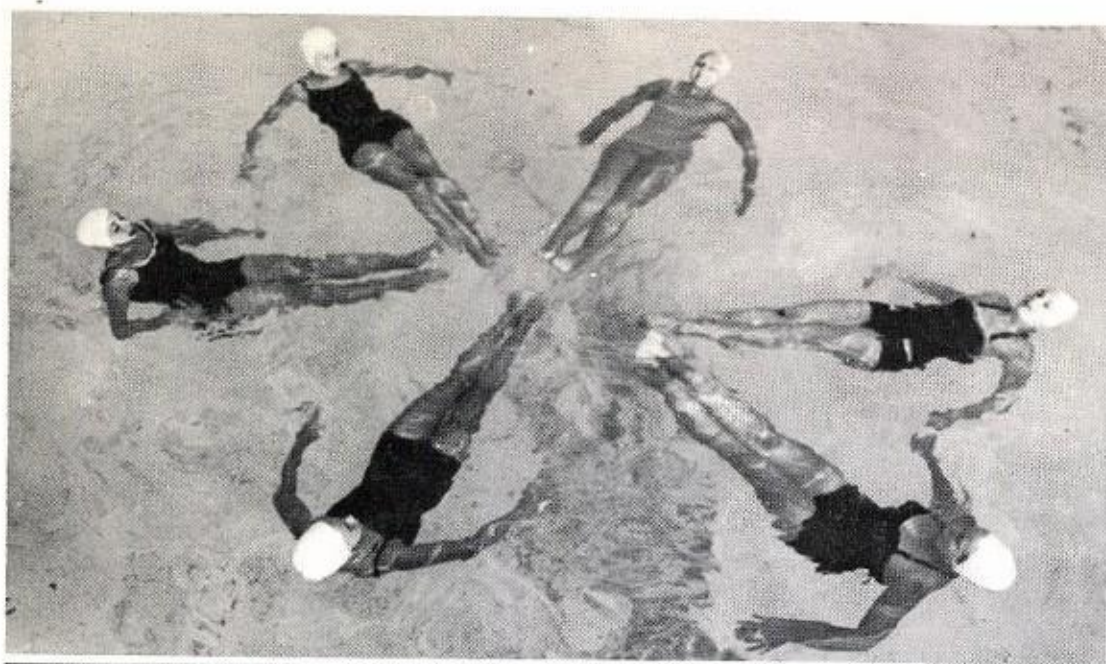

The Senior physical education classes concentrated on a more specialized program of sports than the sophomore and junior classes. Badminton, as an activity in the sports schedule, commanded much of the popularity. Elinore Gray and Nancy Swope were two of the many physical education students that participated in this sport.

Ping-pong

Jean Babson and Sally Strode, two Senior girls, enjoyed playing ping-pong during their gym class.

Water Ballet

Swimming was one of G.A.A.'s special activities. Every Tuesday and Thursday for the first five weeks of school, most of G.A.A. traveled to the Perris Hill pool. Jerry Mikish, Jane Carr, Judy Hiller, Kay Johnson, Joanna Mackzum, and Melinda Thomas, were among those who specialized in Water Ballet.

Swimming

On your mark! Get set! Judy St. Jean and Eileen Hodges were just two of the several girls who excelled in competitive swimming.

Bowling

Bowling was one of G.A.A.'s principal after-school activities. All members who desired to do so, participated in this program. Special instruction was given to members who had no experience in bowling. Cheryl Thompson showed Ever Hare how to hold the ball.

Car Washes

Car washes and cake sales were the basic money raising projects for the Girls' Athletic Association this year. Members of G.A.A. planned the car wash schedule, which usually consisted of teachers' cars. The club's sponsors drove them to the washing area, and the girls cleaned the cars thoroughly.

Cherry Olsen,
G.A.A. president

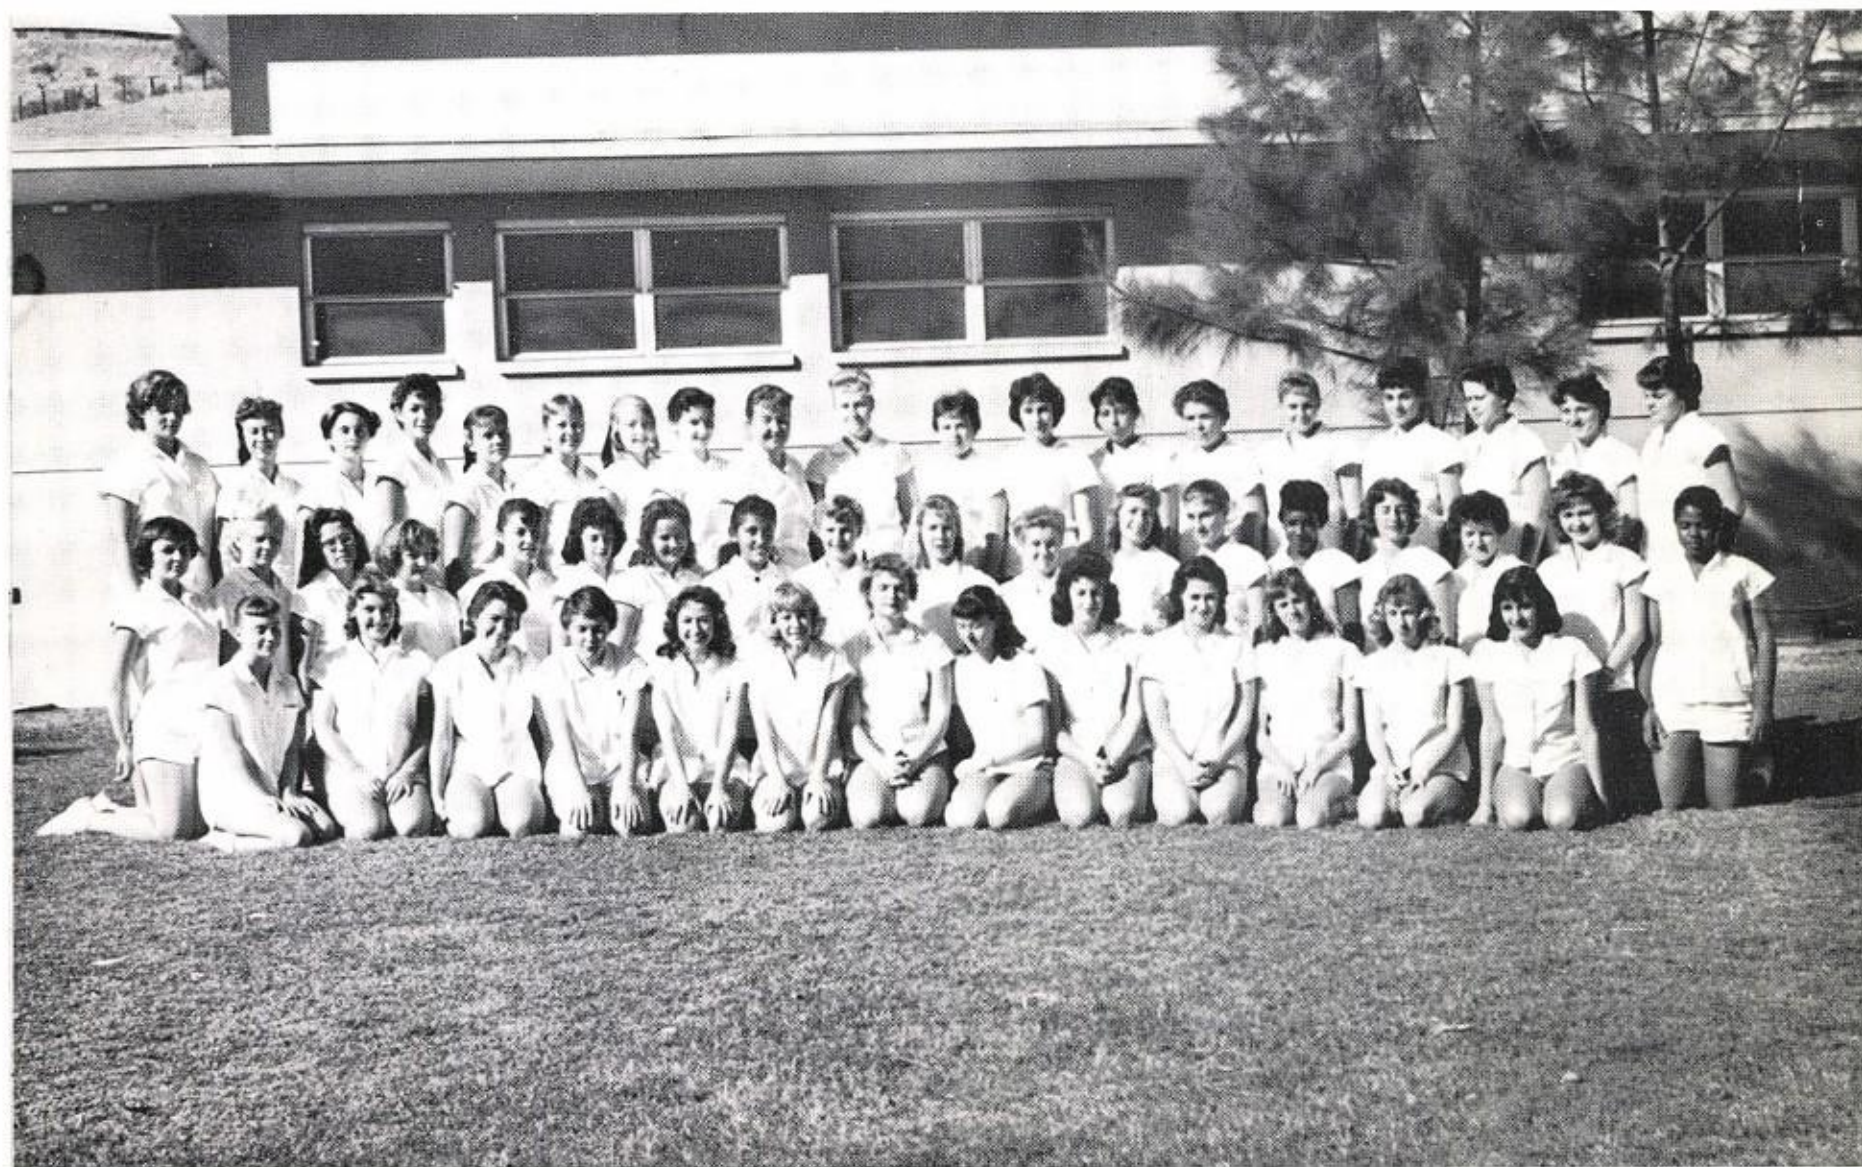

G.A.A.

“... promote clean living and good sportsmanship.”

After thirty-seven years of teaching, twenty - four of which were spent in the San Bernardino City School System, Mr. Gordon Park retired from his active career.

A native of San Bernardino, he graduated from San Bernardino High School.

At one time he was foreman of Los Flores Ranch in Summit Valley which is one of the oldest ranches in this area. His teaching career started at Elsinore, where he was the athletic coach. He was Principal of Barstow Union High School and Principal of Sturges Junior High School which is here in San Bernardino. Following, he was Superintendent of San Bernardino City Schools. He came to Pacific in 1953 as an administrative assistant. He sponsored the Latin-American Club.

Here at Pacific he added greatly to Pacific's culture and dignity in his quiet, gracious way. He had an understanding way with students whose problems were the type often overlooked by the average classroom teacher. Several graduates of Pacific have been able to graduate only through the efforts of Mr. Park whose faith in them inspired them to have faith in themselves. One of his greatest pleasures is seeing these students, whom he has helped to receive their diploma, become citizens of our community.

...and furthermore

We, the administration and members of the 1960 Pacificana staff, wish to formally summarize and evaluate our accounts on this the night of our last, very last deadline. Although this block of copy is under the influence of two people who are quite hysterically tired, we want you to realize that all of this information is entirely and positively true.

In the course of completing the book we used $75\frac{1}{8}$ paper clips, 4 rusty straight pins, 107 red and blue pencils, $6\frac{1}{2}$ typewriter ribbons, 9 very potent fifths of black printers ink, 9 roles of holey butcher paper, 3 broken red crayons, 156 cokes, 1 leaky coffee percolator, $10\frac{3}{4}$ lbs. of terrible coffee, 78 "Jiffy Boy" 19c hamburger specials, at least 2 boxes of PHS stationery, 23 tankfuls of cheap petrol, 2 barrels of elbow grease and 4 reams of regular white paper.

We acquired 1 sprained ankle, 1 very expensive speeding ticket, 1 broken automobile axle, 1 pair of ripped capris, 3 new recipes for apple tarts, 2 mutilated little fingers, two completely totaled lunch boxes and 5 enthusiastic smacks in the nose.

We carried $2\frac{3}{4}$ tons to the trash incinerator, and doused 4 goofy editors one night with used coffee grounds.

We made 23 long distance phone calls, 12 local phone calls, and 3 moose calls at 12:00 one night.

In order to survive the whole year we consumed 4 bottles of Bayer aspirin, 2 King-Sized cartons of No-Doze and two glasses of gin and tonic.

We bawled 3 times, sobbed twice, and made absolute nuts out of ourselves by laughing hysterically at 1:00 in the afternoon during one of Mr. Nielsen's classes.

Believe us, if you have any complaints or criticism after all this,

TUFF!

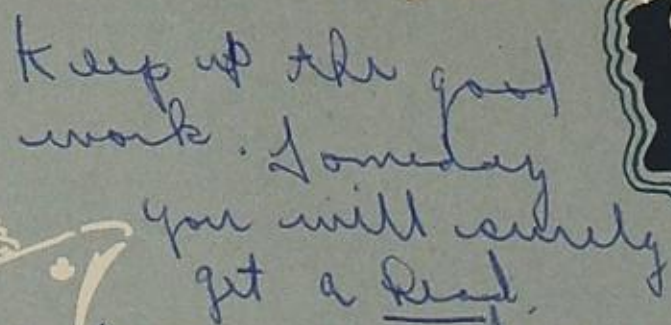

Les Nielsen AND Sue Threath

Leory,

I have enjoyed being in typing with you, even though you did alot better than ~~me~~ I did. I also hope that we are in a class together next year. Good luck in the future.
